Predict Early Agreement to End Strike in Film Industry

Peace Proposals Being Studied Today in California

UNIONS IN CLASH

Screen Actors' Guild In Parleys With Producers

Hollywood —(P)—Picket line reinforcements from longshoremen and the Committee for Industrial Organization were promised to film industry strikers today, as the labor conciliator for major producers predicted an end of the five-day strike.

A riotous union clash in the headquarters of the International Alliance of the Theatrical and Stage Employees last night apparently marked a crucial turn in the walkout of 6,000 studio employees.

It was followed by a statement from Pat Casey, labor relations executive of the producers' association, that the Los Angeles Central Labor council had suggested a peace plan to be studied today.

"It all parties find the terms of the proposed agreement satisfactory, I feel justified in asserting that the strike will be called off," he said.

Open Negotiations

Later, the Screen Actors' Guild, potentially capable of making or breaking the strike, opened the committee negotiations with the producers to be continued tomorrow and completed "within a reasonably short time." Working conditions and higher wage scales for minor players formed the crux of the discussion, in addition to the guild's demand for a closed shop.

Six casualties resulted from a fatal invasion of the I. A. T. S. E. offices by 50 men wearing white arm-bands. The I. A. T. S. E. is not on strike. It is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, however, like the striking Federated Motion Picture Crafts.

As scores of studio employees waited in line to apply for membership in the I. A. T. S. E., the invading "rioters" began battling. Bystanders were cracked, eyes blackened, bones broken. Men were hurled through windows and down flights of stairs.

Rioters Escape in Traffic
The riot occurred during the peak traffic hour of the evening, hundreds of motorists being witnesses. In confusion, rioters escaped arrest by running from the building and mingling with the crowds as police arrived.

The office was wrecked. Doors and windows were shattered by the first serious violence of the strike. Police forced strike sympathizers parading in front of the Paramount studio to give up a sign reading: "Studio on strike; don't scab!" but no attempt was made to prevent motor picketing.

Actresses and actors reached the studios with difficulty. Among those on the sets were Jean Harlow, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Barbara Stanwyck, John Boles, Greta Garbo, Garry Cooper, George Raft, Charles Boyer, Herbert Marshall, Gilbert Roland, Dorothy Lamour, Lew Ayres and Leslie Howard.

None of the stars had any comment on the strike situation. Regardless of their personal feelings in the demands of the crafts for union recognition and a closed union shop, they have maintained discreet silence, pending official action of the Screen Actors' Guild.

Nebraska Senator in Attack on Court Plan

Bellevue —(P)—Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska termed the supreme court enlargement proposal "a wild and dangerous proposal to make courts bend to the legislative and executive will" in an address before the Thirtieth district conference of Rotary International here yesterday.

"If friends of the president will let him to abandon the scheme," said Senator Burke. "Then still remains time for the administration gracefully to acknowledge the error."

Senator Burke recommended the proposal be submitted to the public vote as an amendment to the constitution.

Oscar Stotzer, Milwaukee, was chosen to succeed Charles W. Fendrick, West Allis, as president of the Thirtieth district.

None Could Outdo Wood

During the past 50 years, more than 250,000 houses have been issued on substitutes for wooden railroad crossties but so far nothing satisfactory has been developed. During the same period, no satisfactory substitute has been found for a Post-Crescent Want Ad when it comes to renting or selling real estate in the Appleton area. Here's a typical example:

DREW ST. N. 511—Lower 4 room modern flat. Bath. Garage. Inq. lower apt.

Had seven calls within an hour and a half after the paper was out. Rented right away.

Former Ruler and Wallis Guarded in France While Planning for Their Future

APPLETON MAN DIES

James D. O'Leary, 73, above, an Appleton resident for 50 years, died last night at his home, 415 W. Eighth street, after an illness of about four years. Prior to his illness, he was engaged in the real estate business. He served as a member of the police and fire commission for a number of years and held memberships in the Holy Name society of St. Mary church, Knights of Columbus and Catholic Knights of Wisconsin.

J. D. O'Leary, 73, Pioneer Business Leader, Is Dead

Retired From Real Estate Work About Four Years Ago

James D. O'Leary, 73, a resident of Appleton for 50 years and one of the best known of the city's prohibition businessmen, died at 8:30 last night at his home, 415 W. Eighth street, after an illness of about four years. During part of that time he had been able to be about town, but was compelled to retire from active business.

Mr. O'Leary, who was born Sept. 25, 1863, at Cambridge, N. Y., came to Wisconsin with his parents when he was a small boy. After a few years in Oshkosh and in the west he came to Appleton as a young man to begin work at the Sherman house, now the Conway hotel.

For many years prior to prohibition he was in business immediately east of the Pettibone-Peabody Co. store. He disposed of the business about 20 years ago and engaged in the sale of real estate, remaining active until he became ill.

Mr. O'Leary was married to Miss Catherine Vaughn, who survives, him, on January 15, 1896. Other survivors are their four children, James V. of Detroit, Mich., Mary C. and Margaret at Appleton, John W. of Neenah, four grand children, two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Ward of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Susan Brown of Tacoma, Wash.

Mr. O'Leary served as a member of the police and fire commission for a number of years and he held memberships in the Holy Name society of St. Mary church, Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin.

Funeral services will be held at 8:30 Friday morning at the residence and at 9 o'clock at St. Mary church. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. The body will be at the residence after 7:30 tonight until the hour for the services Friday.

Industrialist Urges Change in Wagner Law

Washington —(P)—Secretary Perkins said today his second conference of labor and industrial leaders had heard an industrialist's proposal to amend the Wagner labor relations act for elections in their plants.

Labor leaders at the closed meeting objected, he said, that this procedure would allow an employer to kill off unionization by getting an election when organization had just started.

The labor department head said he personally believed the present act should not be amended for at least one year—possibly two years—"until we have had some experience under it."

The meeting yesterday resulted in a resolution commending "similar free and frank consideration by all parties interested of practices and policies that will promote peaceful and constructive improvement of industrial relations."

Regents Fill Vacancy on U. W. Board of Visitors

Madison —(P)—Superintendent A. D. Gillett of Eveleth, Minn., former educator at the Superior State Teachers' college, was elected today by the University of Wisconsin board of regents to fill a vacancy on the university board of visitors. Gillett's appointment is for the balance of the unexpired term of the late Superintendent A. C. Kingsford of Baraboo.

The regents also appointed Loyal Durand, Milwaukee, to succeed himself on the board of visitors. Durand's term expired July, 1935, while Gillett's term will begin July 1, 1937.

Monte France —(P)—Wallis Simpson and her gay duke walked arm in arm—behind a sharp-eyed escort of two—in the grounds of the ancient Chateau de Candé today.

Fifty yards in front of the strolling lovers an alert British detective paced along with Herman L. Rogers of New York, Mrs. Simpson's friend and spokesman.

Police at the various gates were doubled to keep the curious out, and Rogers said neither the duke of Windsor nor his betrothed planned to leave the estate today.

In fact, they were reported in mild argument about their choice of a home.

Tomorrow, it was stated, the famous couple may visit some neighboring chateaux.

The Chateau de Candé grounds were bathed in a warm sun as Edward and Mrs. Simpson walked and, presumably, made their wedding plans.

Went Discuss Plans
Rogers, coming out to greet newspaper men before the stroll, refused for the first time to accept telephone calls. He also declined to discuss plans for the wedding—presumably put off until after mid-May, when Edward's youngest brother, the duke of Kent, may be best man.

The argument about a home, if it really could be called an argument, was this:

Wallis Warfield Simpson—the former Baltimore belle who won the heart of a king—was understood to be urging America as a land in which the tumult surrounding her royal romance could be forgotten.

Edward, duke of Windsor—the British monarch who chose "the woman I love" to the crown he might have worn one week hence—was pictured as wanting to make their home in Austria, whose people, he, are close to him.

Wallis Favors U. S.
Their trials of five months and one day of separation melted yesterday in a joyful embrace at the chateau. Persons close to the household said Mrs. Simpson suggested that after the wedding they go to the United States, or at least to Canada, to escape the memories and traditions of royalty that still would bind them as duke and duchess.

Edward was understood to want to return to the Austrian Tirol whose mountains sheltered him during the self-exile that followed his abdication last December while

3,700 on Strike At Motors Plants

Sit-Down Begun at St. Louis in Protest Against Discharge of 37

St. Louis —(P)—Members of the United Automobile Workers of America at General Motors' Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants began a sit-down strike today in protest against the discharge of 37 employees.

Norman Smith, organizer for the Committee for Industrial Organization, with which the Automobile Workers' union is affiliated, said 3,700 men ceased work an hour after the plants opened this morning, forcing a complete halt in operations.

John Livingston, president of the St. Louis local of the union, said the 37 discharged men were employed on a truck assembly line in the Chevrolet plant, where the work-week is five 7-hour days.

In an effort to return the men to their jobs, he said a union shop committee conferred Monday and yesterday with the Chevrolet plant manager, Phil Baugh, and offered to "share-the-work" on the assembly line, reducing the work-week of each man to five 6 1/2 hour days. Baugh refused to agree to the union's plan, he asserted.

The negotiations having failed, the strike was called by pre-arranged signal this morning, Livingston said. Workers in the Fisher Body division struck in "sympathy" with the Chevrolet employees, he explained.

Woman Is Absolved in Fatal Auto Accident

Chicago —(P)—Mrs. Martha Block, of Lyons, Wis., was absolved by a coroner's jury yesterday in an automobile accident April 4 when her car killed two youths and injured Police Chief George Mollenkamp, Wheeling, Ill.

Her car struck and fatally injured Raymond Bezon, 21, and Ignatius Ciesielski, 22, as they stood on the highway with three other youths, in conversation with Mollenkamp.

The jury returned an accidental death verdict after Mollenkamp testified his car was parked on the wrong side of the road and a passenger in the Block automobile testified the youths were not visible until the car was about to strike them.

Fall From Window Kills Chippewa Falls Child

Chippewa Falls —(P)—Injuries received when she fell from a fourth story window in a hotel here today proved fatal to Donna Mae Probst, one and one-half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Probst. The child died in a hospital last night. The little girl fell on her head, fracturing her skull.

Report $1,000 Taken as Two Men Raid Bank

Armed Bandits Force Cashier to Lie Down On Floor

FLEE IN AUTOMOBILE

Order Patrol to Accompany Them as They Seize Cash

Almond, Wis. —(P)—Two men, both armed with pistols, robbed the Portage County bank today of a sum which bank officials said they hoped would not exceed $1,000.

The men entered the bank shortly before noon, walked up to G. G. Crowell, cashier, and commanded: "Don't get excited. This is a stick-up."

The robbers forced Crowell to lie face down on the floor and Arnold Young, a patron, to accompany them as they moved about the building.

After scooping up all the counter cash, the men ordered Crowell and Young to accompany them out the back door and to keep on walking without looking around.

The robbers hopped into their car, parked at the bank's rear door, and headed north on County Highway A.

Crowell said they drove a black sedan with a trunk on the rear. He described one as about 45 and the other about 30 years of age. Both were roughly dressed, he said.

The Portage county sheriff notified the police and vigilantes to be on the lookout as well as sheriffs of neighboring counties.

Bank officials were checking to determine how much loot the robbers obtained.

A time lock was set on the inside door of the bank vault, balking any effort to get into the vault.

Find Portion of Woman's Torso

Part of Body Found Two Months Ago, Cleveland Coroner Reports

Cleveland —(P)—Coast guards took the lower portion of a woman's torso from Lake Erie today, giving new impetus to the police investigation of Cleveland's series of beheadings.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber reported to police that the piece of human flesh found today definitely was the lower part of the torso found in the lake nearly 10 miles away about two months ago—the eighth victim of the killer. The verities of the two portions matched as did the angles of the cuts, he said.

The portion of the body found today had been cut off below the breasts and at the hips. It was first seen in the lake by Howard Yochim, operator of a concession at the Great Lakes exposition on the lake front, who called coast guards and police.

The bodies of four male victims were found in the Kingsbury run, a small dirty stream flowing through the industrial section at the southern rim of the downtown section. Only three of the victims ever have been identified.

The first of the grim discoveries was made Sept. 5, 1934, when the body of a woman was found on the eastern shore of Lake Erie.

Coroner Gerber who has made a thorough study of the killings said he believed all were committed by the same person.

Consolidated and Union Agree on Wage Boosts

Wisconsin Rapids —(P)—Representatives of the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company and union workers negotiated today a wage increase of 7 cents an hour for all male employees and 4 cents for women employees.

The increase, effective May 3, is the second of the present year. It establishes a minimum wage of 53 cents an hour for men. The standard rates for women will be 41 and 43 cents an hour.

The company operates mills at Wisconsin Rapids, Biron, Stevens Point, and Appleton.

Judge Overrules Plea to Discharge Jury in Trial of General Denhardt

New Castle, Ky. —(P)—Circuit Judge Charles C. Marshall today overruled a defense motion to discharge the jury trying Brigadier General Henry H. Denhardt on an indictment charging murder of his sweetheart, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor.

Judge Marshall also overruled a motion to exclude the paraffin tests which the commonwealth claimed proved Denhardt had fired a weapon and Mrs. Taylor had not shortly before she was found dead on a roadside last November.

The 61-year-old soldier-politician confined last night in a cell directly beneath the jury room while 12 men discovered the evidence in the circumstantial murder case for five hours and five minutes.

Judge Marshall ordered the jurors locked up for the night after they sent out word at 11:15 p. m. (C. S. T.) they desired to continue their deliberations in the morning. The judge then went to his home at Shelbyville 20 miles away, and

FEARED FOR LIFE

"I didn't want those fellows to kill me," was the reason given by the senate civil liberties committee by Kelly Fox (above), garage mechanic, for not revealing he was a witness to the "shooting up" of a Harlan county, Ky., miner's home in which a youth was slain.

Bandit Escapes With $50 After Drug Store Raid

Armed Man Forces Appleton Druggist to Open Cash Register

An armed bandit held up the Schlitz Brothers Drug store at 601 W. College avenue shortly after 10 o'clock last night and escaped with between $50 and $55 in currency.

Harvey Schlitz was locking the store for the night when a man came to the door and said he needed some aspirin tablets. Schlitz admitted him, gave him a drink of water and walked back to the wrapping counter before the man produced a heavy revolver and ordered the druggist to open the cash register.

Announcing that no one would be hurt if he did as he was told, the bandit ordered Schlitz to lie down on the floor behind the counter. He then scooped currency from several drawers of the cash register and fled from the building.

The bandit was described as dark complexioned with a heavy square jaw. He was about 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighed about 180 pounds and was wearing a dark grey cap and overcoat. The man apparently was about 45 years old and had a scar or deep wrinkle on the left side of his face, according to the police report.

Labor Board May Act On Wiechering Request

Madison —(P)—Voyta Wrabetz, member of the state labor relations board, said today the board is considering the request of Mayor C. A. Wiechering of Oshkosh for intervention in a strike of 1,400 woodworkers in that city.

A letter from the mayor to Governor LaFollette, suggesting that the board take action if the strike was not settled this week, was turned over to Wrabetz shortly after he returned to Madison.

Wrabetz said it was likely the board would intervene in accordance with the request. Mayor Wiechering suggested setting up a local mediation board consisting of business leaders, American Federation of Labor and Committee for Industrial Organization representatives.

Assails Badger Budget Fund Control Features

Milwaukee —(P)—Paul N. Reynolds, president of the Wisconsin Taxpayers' alliance, criticized the LaFollette budget as giving too much control of state funds to the emergency fund in an address before the Milwaukee Real Estate board yesterday.

He said the state indirectly taxed real estate by forcing cities to increase property taxes to raise state funds and to meet state requirements.

Struggle Over Economy Plan On at Capital

Congress Groups Striving To Cut and Increase Estimates

HOPKINS WITNESS

Virginian Leads Move to Reduce Total to Billion Dollars

Washington —(P)—A tug-of-war to raise or lower President Roosevelt's request for a $1,500,000,000 relief fund started today before a house subcommittee.

The first witness was Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, who supports the president's estimate for the year beginning July 1. A strong bloc of congressmen also favors that figure.

Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) acting chairman of the subcommittee, led an apparently growing group of legislators seeking to cut $500,000,000—one-third—from the president's request.

A coalition of Progressives and self-styled liberals advocated a $2,500,000,000 fund, contending a smaller sum merely would force relief officials to call for more money during the year.

The verdict of the subcommittee will be the first major test of Mr. Roosevelt's plea for economy.

Thinks Billion Enough
"If the money we appropriate is used for real relief," Woodrum said, "I feel sure we will find that $1,000,000,000 will do the job." The burden of proof will be on someone else to show me that more money is needed."

Other developments in the economy campaign:
1. Chairman Adams (D-Colo.) of a senate appropriations subcommittee accused the budget bureau of usurping the power of congress to determine how much money will be spent by allowing departments to exceed their yearly allowances.

2. Senate leaders claimed an economy victory in the silencing, at least for the time being, of demands that $300,000,000 be provided to aid schools throughout the country.

3. Chairman Jones (D-Texas) of the house agriculture committee served notice he would oppose any cut in the $500,000,000 fund for paying farmers benefits under the soil conservation act.

4. An appropriation bill for treasury and post office departments, about $230,000,000 larger than last year, was sent to the president with the approval of both houses. Most of the increase was ascribed to the expense of setting up a reserve fund for old age pensions.

5. Representative Woodrum repeated favorable replies from several government agencies to his request that they re-survey their demands for next year in the hope of cutting costs.

Labor Agreements At Seven Concerns

Strikes Still Continue at Three Plants In Milwaukee

Milwaukee —(P)—Agreements were in effect today between the unions and managements of seven Milwaukee concerns following a series of labor front conferences.

Strikes continued at the Bucyrus-Erie company, the Robert A. Johnston and Cooke company and the L. J. Mueller Fence company. Three hundred and fifty employees of the Milwaukee Hay Tool company and the Milwaukee Male and Grey Iron company were scheduled to return to work at the two plants today, both have been closed two weeks. Terms of the agreement with the Moulders' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, were not announced.

John Sovic, assistant business agent of the Machinists' District council, announced ratification of an agreement on working conditions and wages affecting 45 retail automobile dealers and about 1,000 employees.

A three hour sit-down strike at two departments of the Plankinton Packing company ended after conference yesterday between employee and company representatives. Terms were not disclosed.

Three hundred production workers at the Milprint Products corporation will receive wage advances totaling $71,000 under a pact between the company and a United Automobile Workers' chartered union. Company officials said the wage boosts were based on business expectancy for the coming year.

New Trial Motion on Award of $2,000,000

Portland, Maine —(P)—Federal Judge John A. Peterson has agreed to hear Friday a new trial motion protesting a $2,000,000 jury verdict awarded the Jenkins Petroleum Process company, Milwaukee, in its breach of contract suit against the Sinclair Refining company, incorporated in Maine.

The case, in various courts since 1921, was based on a contract whereby the defendant company was to give the Jenkins company the benefit of any discoveries resulting from a petroleum "cracking" process invented by the late Ulysses S. Jenkins 25 years ago.

Trial here took up five weeks.

Charge Italian Destroyer Aids Insurgent Ships

Roosevelt Awaits Change in Winds On Fishing Jaunt

Galveston, Texas —(P)—President Roosevelt waited on the weather man today to decide where to cast his line next in the choppy waters of the gulf of Mexico.

Running down to Port Isabel near the Mexican border yesterday for a change of fishing grounds, the vacationing chief executive found the winds unfavorable for tarpon. The biggest catch was a catfish, less than a foot long, by Colonel Edwin M. Watson, military aide.

A dispatch to White House headquarters here last night said the president would return to Port Aransas if the wind favored the fishing party.

After snagging 14 silver kings near the Port Aransas south jetty Monday, the presidential party decided to seek a little more privacy yesterday and cruised 160 miles down the coast near the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Joint Committee Gets Measure on Drivers' Licenses

Six Assembly Amendments Make Material Changes In Provisions

Madison —(P)—The Cashman bill to strengthen the drivers' license law was sent to the legislative joint finance committee from the assembly today after the house adopted six amendments materially changing some of its provisions.

The major change was to strike out the requirement that compulsory examinations be given motorists when they renew their licenses every three years, as the bill provided. Present licenses are issued for life.

The revision was sponsored by Assemblyman E. D. Hall (P), Tunnel City, who also introduced the house to cut a proposed license fee from 50 to 25 cents, which is the amount now charged.

As the measure now stands only new drivers will be subject to examinations and they will be required to take road tests.

Another material change, over which the house engaged in heated debate, eliminated the provision that convictions for traffic law violations be stamped on the back of a driver's license for the information of enforcement officers. Opponents said this would result in injustice and that the reporting of convictions to the secretary of state alone is adequate.

Swallows Return

To Mailbox Home

For Fifth Season

Superior—F—Mr. and Mrs. Tree Swallow have rented the mailbox at the home of Leonard Moran, president of the Superior Association of Commerce, as their summer residence for the fifth year.

The birds arrived yesterday, but without five offspring hatched in the box last summer. Hoping that the quintuplets also will return, Moran plans to put up an extra mailbox.

When the swallows first moved into the box in 1932, they were upset by the mailman whenever he dropped in letters. The situation was remedied with a "mailbox box."

'ASTOUNDED' AND 'OVERWHELMED'

In her book, "Gone With the Wind," Margaret Mitchell wrote 1,037 pages, but when informed in Atlanta that her novel of the old south had been awarded the annual Pulitzer prize she could only say, "I'm astounded," followed by, "I'm overwhelmed." She is shown here reading the message with Harold Latham, representative of the firm which published her book.

Green Bay Man Tells About Horrors Of Spanish War in Letter to Friends

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)

Madison—Some first hand observations on the horrors of the Spanish Civil war are given by John W. Cookson, Green Bay, a former graduate student at the University of Wisconsin, in a letter to university friends here.

Cookson, who at 23 is fighting with the Loyalist army in Spain, is a former R. O. T. C. cadet at the university, and left Madison about four months ago, telling friends that he intended to visit relatives in England.

How Fascist bombers slaughter defenseless civilians, how the Spanish war started, and how that nation today needs aid of Americans is told in Cookson's letter home.

The war in which he is now a participant, he wrote, is not a civil war, but "a war of intervention of the Fascist nations, Italy and Germany, against a democratic republic and people."

Only by Accident
Telling of the horrors of Fascist bombardments, Cookson said, "If the Fascist bombs hit a military object, it is only by accident."

Excerpts from Cookson's letter follow:
"What is the situation in Spain? The people of Spain elected by peaceful, democratic and constitutional means, a government to bring about a few reforms already existing in all other civilized countries. But the reactionary forces of Spain refused to abide by the will of the people and plunged the country into a bloody war.

"This war, which has usually been called a civil war, is in reality a war of intervention of the Fascist nations, Italy and Germany against a democratic republic and people."

Front Everywhere
"The front is everywhere. The criminal Fascists, whose long record of bombing hospitals and schools is well known, make it a habit to bomb the civilian working class districts of the various Spanish cities. Their calculation that this will break down the morale of the people has the opposite effect—it only unites all the people against the Fascists."

Have you ever been in a bombardment? Have you ever heard the whee-eee of the falling bomb followed by the jar of a terrific explosion a moment later? You breathe a sigh that one missed you, but perhaps the next whistle means a fascist bomb on your house.

Scores 'Liberals'
Cookson scored the "self styled liberals" in America who hesitate to aid Spain, saying: "The writer asks these self styled liberals if they have ever seen women carrying their children out into the fields each night, even during the cold winter, to sleep in comparative safety from the bombs of Fascism. The writer asks these self same members if they have spoken to any of the tens and hundreds of thousands of refugees."

Where they speak, for example, to the refugees from Malaga, of whom 50,000 arrived at Barcelona, and hear the heart rending stories of men who had their wives and children slaughtered by the Fascist hordes.
"No Spain is not a subject to be hushed up, but one upon which everybody should be given the widest information. The fight in Spain is your fight. It is the fight for peace and for the guarantee of democracy against the assaults of Fascism. Spain deserves and needs your support."

Valders Telephone

Rates are Reduced

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)
Madison—Rates of the Jergen and Valders Telephone company have been revised and a reduction has been produced in the course of the revision, according to an announcement by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission. Principal purpose of the revision was to give a more detailed classification of rates than before, the commission said.

Forced Military Training Bill Is Rapped at Hearing

Advocates of Measure Argue Need for Officers in Event of War

Madison—F—The White bill to restore compulsory military training at the University of Wisconsin brought out an array of opponents including students, clergymen and representatives of peace, farm, Socialist and women's organizations at a senate hearing yesterday.

The bill introduced by Senator Kenneth White (R), River Falls, would require freshmen and sophomore men to attend drill, except in case of physical disability, removing the optional provision under which military science has been an elective subject since 1923.

In the course of arguments before the committee on education and public welfare, witnesses discussed at length the causes of war and at one point argued a definition of democracy.

Advocates of the bill stressed their hope the nation never again would be involved in a war but urged training of the students as potential officers in case of another conflict.

Sees New World War
Frederic Crane, white-haired Madisonian, who said he had been appearing at hearings for 23 years, anticipated opponents' views by asserting military training "does not lead to militarism."

Another World war is "just around the corner," he said. He listed three reasons for his approval of the bill that drill "gives splendid physical exercise," teaches obedience to orders and makes students learn about war.

Harrison Garner of Madison, representing veterans' organizations and the Reserve Officers' association, said training of officers would shorten war by prolonging by inefficient leadership. Mrs. Garner and Mrs. R. L. Williams, Madison, appearing for the American Legion auxiliary, also favored the bill, as did Major Remington Orsinger, commandant of the university R. O. T. C. unit.

Appleton Student Opposed
"Undemocratic" and "militaristic" were terms used by the Rev. George Collins, Madison, and John Frank, Appleton, a university student, in opposing the measure. Frank declared many students would go to other schools if military training were compulsory.

The Rev. Alfred Swan, Madison, said the students' attitude was apparent in that only a minority has signed up for the drill since 1923. Ellis Waldron, Madison, who said he took drill under compulsion at Ohio State university, said it was considered a joke there and that the morale of the unit was poor because of the compulsory feature.

Fred Hale, field man for the National Council for the Prevention of war, engaged the committee in a discussion of democracy that Senator Marvin Duffel (R), Fond du Lac, climaxed with the assertion the American form of government is "republican" rather than democratic and the framers of the constitution never intended it to be a pure democracy.

Schneider Hits Army, Navy Costs

Criticizes Big Appropriations for These Departments

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Declaring that army and navy appropriations seem to be untouchable from the standpoint of economy, Representative George J. Schneider of Appleton, sharply criticized party leaders for allowing the largest peacetime appropriations in the country's history to those departments, while they pizeen-holed the bill authorizing federal aid to education.

Schneider pointed out that the education bill had the support of school officials and educators the country over. Wisconsin education officials appeared before the House education committee urging its adoption.

It would have authorized an appropriation of $100,000,000 for the first year, and $50,000,000 for each succeeding year until the total federal aid amounted to $300,000,000. "The reason given for side-tracking this bill is the need for economy," Schneider declared. "However, the need for economy does not seem to prevent the passage of appropriations of nearly a billion dollars for the army and navy," he said.

Industrialists Oppose

Trade Practice Act

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)
Madison—Concerted opposition by industrialists of Winnebago county to the reenactment of the Wisconsin Trades practices act, now an emergency measure soon to expire, is expressed in dozens of letters to Assemblyman Leo T. Niemuth of that county.

One prominent Oshkosh business man described the statute as "vicious and socialist." The present act will expire in July of this year, and a bill is now pending before the legislature to make the statute a permanent one.

Suit Launched Against Memorial Association

Cincinnati, Ohio—F—Four Wisconsin residents brought suit today against the Arlington Memorial Park association, charging fraud and misrepresentation.

They asked that the contract be rescinded and the bonds returned. They also asked that Morton Gilbert, an executive of the association, pay $4,000 in damages.

Frank and Richard Smole of Richland Center, Wis., in another suit, charged the association obtained from them an option contract on the transfer of $1,500 in bonds. They asked the contract's nullification, return of the bonds, and a $6,500 judgment against Gilbert.

Expect Recess in Civil Liberties Quiz at Capital

Harlan County Deputy Sheriff Final Witness Today in Inquiry

Washington—F—The LaFollette civil liberties committee summoned Merle Middleton, deputy sheriff of Harlan county, Ky., as the final witness today in its inquiry into industrial strife in the county's coal fields.

Middleton is a cousin of Sheriff T. R. Middleton, whose deputies have been accused by witnesses of attacks on union organizers and their helpers.

The committee indicated it would recess for several weeks before considering complaints of other civil liberties violations.

Pearl Bassham, bald-pated proprietor of one of Harlan's largest coal companies, was on the stand yesterday. His answers caused Senator LaFollette (D-Wis.) to exclaim:

"I am convinced that of the evasive witnesses who have appeared before the committee, you are the worst."

LaFollette then warned Bassham that "there is a penalty for perjury before this committee."

Memory Fails

Bassham repeatedly told the committee he did not remember discussions with deputies or incidents connected with the slaying last week of a union miner.

Bassham admitted he had employed Bill "Thug" Johnson, who testified at an earlier session that he was a member of a "gang of mine guards" ordered to "hunt down union men and bump them off."

He told LaFollette he did not "mean to be evasive" and explained that "since the hearings started he had given orders 'not to dismiss any workers because they join a union' and had stopped requiring employees to sign 'yellow dog contracts' pledging themselves never to join a union."

Oprose Minimum Pay Act for Men

State Labor Federation Leaders Appear Against Measure

Madison—F—A bill which would extend the minimum wage law to men met strong opposition yesterday from representatives of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor. J. J. Handley and Fred Gastrow, both appeared against the measure for the federation, declaring to the assembly committee of labor that it would invite employment down to an "oppressive" level.

Handley said the proposal, which extends an existing law providing a minimum wage for women and children to include adult males, would not produce a reasonable standard of living, but a loophole for employers "to gain the advantage they have been looking for."

"Statistics from the federal government show that the average family needs $2,500 a year to live a healthy and sanitary life," he said. "But under this proposal you would not get what you are asking for. The women's minimum wage law has already showed its evils. In some quarters the minimum for female work is as low as 16 cents an hour. If the same law is applied to men, I predict it will drop the male level as low as 35 cents an hour."

Assemblyman Robert E. Tehan (D), Milwaukee, sponsor of the bill, said the proposal was intended to guarantee public health and sanitation to labor and to prohibit an oppressive and unconscionable wage level.

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

Forcing Congress to Coerce the Court

At the end of three months of public debate the judiciary bill is so thoroughly discredited that only raw political coercion can possibly save it. The president himself has not ventured to make a speech about it since early in March. The senate committee, which listened to the testimony, is openly opposed to the scheme. The supporters of the bill no longer rely upon argument. They no longer rely upon the president's power to mould public opinion. They rely now upon the power of patronage and public money to compel a reluctant congress. Unable to convince the senate, the administration is left with nothing but its power to coerce the senate.

We have reached the point where the president's lobbyists are seriously planning to force the senate to do what not fifteen senators think they ought to do. In short they are planning to degrade the senate in order to pack the supreme court.

A Strong Argument When Scheme Was Introduced

When the scheme was first proposed the strongest and most impressive argument in its favor was that the court has unduly and improperly restricted the power of congress. It might have been supposed then that congress, feeling its grievances, would support enthusiastically a plan to make itself superior to the court. But that has not happened. Congress, in spite of its grievances against the court, has shown no appetite whatever for the president's plan. And so we have reached the present position where the president is seeking to where the president is seeking to coerce congress in order to make an unwilling congress coerce the court.

Unexpectedly congress has shown signs of independence. To destroy the independence of the court it is necessary, therefore, to extinguish the reviving independence of congress. Not one, but two co-ordinate branches of the government are to be humiliated and made subservient to the president.

Issue Has Become Broader Than When Plan Was Launched

The issue has become broader than it was on that unhappy day when the president launched his plan. Then it appeared that a triumphantly elected president with an overwhelming majority in congress were about to seize the judiciary and subject it to their party's purposes. But gradually it has transpired that the democratic party is no more favorable to the scheme than it was when it met in Philadelphia last June. So what we are witnessing is not ever the arbitrary coup of a partisan majority. It is the arbitrary coup of the president alone. The Democratic party was not allowed to see the plan before election because it would have rejected it. It is not allowed to discuss it conscientiously after election because it would still reject it. Instead of carrying out the will of the party, Mr. Roosevelt is imposing his personal will on the party.

It has been demonstrated in these three months that the Democratic party has no desire to pack the court. It has been demonstrated that this bill is not a party measure but a personal measure forced down the throats of the Democrats. It is now understood that it is impossible to pack the court without packing congress first. It has been shown that only a personally controlled senate can create a personally controlled court.

At Least 45 Senators Fight For Independence

The effect will be far-reaching. Already there are at least forty-five senators who realize that they are fighting not only to preserve the independence of the courts but the independence of congress as well. They see that the alignment is not the president and congress against the court, but the president against congress and the court. The issue is

Build Flower Shop In Kindergarten Room at Washington

Paper flowers of every variety grace the kindergarten room at Washington school since pupils have completed work on their spring flower shop. Orange crates have been decorated and form the exterior of the shop with flowers displayed on various shelves.

Tulips predominate among the flowers although visitors may see violets, climbing vines, daisies, roses, daffodils, narcissus and briar roses. Each pupil was permitted to draw his own design and choose his own flower.

Empty tin cans, cardboard boxes, powder boxes and paper containers have been pressed into service as flower pots. The boxes and cans were brought from home and pupils painted and decorated the containers so they could be used.

In connection with the project, pupils learned the various kinds of flowers which are grown in Appleton. All studies were correlated with the flower theme. Miss Lucille Fitzsimons, kindergarten director, is in charge of the work.

Supervisors to Act Thursday on Paving Proposal

Resolution for $50,000 Appropriation Introduced Today

A resolution which would provide a $50,000 county appropriation toward paving of a connecting link between Highway 10 on Oneida street and County Trunk Z in Appleton was introduced at this morning's session of the county board.

There was no comment when the resolution was read and laid over, under the rules, until Thursday. Although action on the city's request for the appropriation was deferred at the November, February and March sessions of the board, a decision may be reached tomorrow.

The supervisors today approved a report by a special committee which recommended that action on the proposed disposal of county owned tax certificates on the Bova-Black Creek Drainage district be deferred until the next meeting. Sale of the certificates at less than face value has been proposed at several sessions of the board.

Oppose Hours Bill
Today's session was brief, confined largely to routine work and to reading of communications from the Wisconsin County Boards association relative to bills passed or pending in the state legislature. The board approved a resolution opposing a bill that would limit employees of county institutions to an 8-hour day and may act on other bills following a report by the legislative committee.

A petition from the town of Black Creek for county aid toward construction of a bridge on the town line between Black Creek and Oneida, and a similar petition from the town of Bovina for aid in construction of two bridges over dredge ditches between County Trunk A and Highway 54 were deferred to the highway committee.

A report by the highway committee on a petition to continue County Trunk G through the city of Seymour revealed that under the 1925 layout of county trunks, G extends through Seymour. Another highway committee recommendation that a $16 damage claim by George McElroy, town of Hortonville, be denied, was approved by the supervisors.

Request $1,000
A resolution asking for a $1,000 county appropriation for the Seymour Fair and Driving Park association was laid over, under the rules, until Thursday morning. The resolution, introduced by Supervisor Zuitches, stated that the association would be unable to continue its activities unless some aid could be obtained.

The board also heard an announcement of the Fox River Valley and Lake Shore State Conference at Oshkosh May 20, a report by the district attorney on delinquent taxes and the taking of tax deeds by the county, and the quarterly report of the sheriff's department.

Commends Efforts Of Committee on Pauper Accounts

Collections on Past Due Accounts Total Several Thousand Dollars

Waupaca — L. W. Eastling, chairman of the Waupaca county board, yesterday afternoon paid tribute to P. C. Jensen, town of Farmington supervisor and chairman of the special pauper committee, for his efforts in saving the county several thousand dollars through collections on past due accounts from other counties for paupers living in Waupaca county.

At present there are 40 cases which are to be brought before the Wisconsin Industrial commission for legal settlement, he told the county board, and all cases are between 10 and 15 years old. Up to this year, he continued, $1,500 was collected from Oneida county and the last payment of $593, just announced, brought the total collections from that county to more than $2,000.

By summer County Clerk J. J. Steiger and Jensen expect to have all accounts collected or at least determine how the county stands on $14,000 booked against other counties.

Chairman Eastling said that this was the first concentrated effort in the history of the county in this field.

Strike at Kenosha Dime Store in Third Month

Kenosha — A strike of 68 girl clerks of four dime stores went into its third month today with union leaders and store managers still unable to reach an agreement.

The Kenosha Retail Clerks' union rejected last night a proposed wage scale of $14 to $16.50 a week and held to demands for $18 a week and a closed shop.

The McKinley Junior High school girls' klee club, selected orchestra and full orchestra presented a program last night at the school auditorium as the feature of the spring music festival.

The girls' klee club under the direction of Kenneth Schilling sang the following numbers: "Sleepy Hollow Tune," "Music When Soft Voices die," "Wake Thine Now Dearest," "Stars of the Summer Night," "I Will Give You the Keys," "Little Boy Blue," and the school song.

Five numbers were played by the selected orchestra. They were "Funky the Sailor" by Grant Wellesley; "Conchita" by Raphael Martinez; "Chinese Manna" by Robert L. Creighton; "Alpine Echoes" by Frederic VanNorman; "Dancing Bear" by Jules Reynard. During this part of the program, Ruth Gust played a violin solo and Alice McCarter and Shirley Abel played a violin duet.

Orchestra Plays

The ceremony opened with a candle lighting service in which patrol leaders lit candles representing the Girl Scout laws and promising. The tenderfoot investiture followed.

Edward, Wallis Plan for Future

Mrs. Simpson's divorce suit against a London ships' broker was still in the courts.

It was generally expected the marriage would be performed at the old Touraine country where the kings of France wooed their ladies.

The two were not pressed for time in their home-making decision because the duke, eager not to dim the glory of his brother's coronation next week in London, apparently had put off his marriage plans.

It was learned in official quarters that the surety national had been instructed to protect Edward's youngest brother the duke of Kent, on a trip into France May 18.

This seemed to indicate Kent would come here to stand as Edward's best man at the marriage, on or about that day.

Edward and his dark-eyed bride-to-be were expected to remain at the chateau guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux, during the coronation of George VI, listening—as other millions of British subjects the world over—to radio broadcasts of a ceremony that might have pivoted about the slim, blond Edward.

The mercury dropped 26 degrees last night and a cool breeze greeted early morning risers. Maximum and minimum temperatures of 68 and 42 degrees were reported in the last 24 hours preceding 9 o'clock this morning at the power plant of the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Highest and lowest temperatures yesterday were Phoenix 96, Boston 54; Cheyenne 36 and Lander 33.

Police Choose Three For Pension Committee

Traffic Sergeant Carl Radtke, Chaffee Lester Van Roy and Patrolman Earl Thomas were elected by Appleton police last night to represent them on the police pension committee. Other members of the committee are Mayor John Goodland, Carl Becker, city clerk Joseph Kox, city treasurer, and Chief of Police George T. Prim.

Board Requests Reappointment Of Plant Head

Want Clarence Baetz to Hold Job Until Removed by Council

Reappointment of Clarence O. Baetz as superintendent of the sewage disposal plant and that he hold such position until removed by the council was recommended by the board of public works at a meeting yesterday afternoon at the city hall.

The board recommended that William Storm be hired as a spare operator and mechanic at the plant and that his salary be $135 per month and $140 after the first month if services are satisfactory.

Approval of plans showing arrangement of separate sanitary and storm sewers for the new senior high school was given. The estimated cost is $4,802.71.

Other recommendations of the board were that the superintendent of the sewage plant send in an inventory twice a year to the council, that the city clerk advertise for a carload of chlorine in 1-ton containers and that the board be empowered to buy chemicals for the sewage plant from time to time if cost is less than $500.

Mayor Goodland was named chairman of the board and after the meeting members inspected some black top streets at Kaukauna.

Driver Pleads Guilty Of Breaking Speed Law

Joseph Finnegan, 201 W. Lawrence street, a cab driver, pleaded guilty of speeding when he appeared in municipal court this morning and was fined $10 and costs by Judge Thomas H. Ryan. He was accused of going 45 miles an hour on E. Wisconsin avenue.

Walter Dixon, 112 E. Nevada street, and Elmer Johnson, 719 N. State street, were fined $2 and costs each in municipal court today when they pleaded guilty of violating the city's 90-minute parking ordinance.

FIRE IN AUTOMOBILE

A fire in an automobile owned by Carl Prasher, 1230 S. Mason street, was extinguished by firemen at S. Oneida and E. South River street early this morning. The blaze, started by a short circuit in the ignition, caused little damage.

FINED $5 AND COSTS

Milo Hill, Oneida, pleaded guilty of failure to stop for an actual sign at Richmond street and Wisconsin avenue when he appeared in municipal court this morning and was fined $5 and costs. He was arrested by a county motorcycle patrolman.

Denies Necessity For Compensation Fund in Wisconsin

Wilkie Claims Alliance Is Taking Care of All Requirements

Madison — Harold M. Wilkie, Madison, counsel for the Wisconsin Mutual Insurance Alliance, told an assembly committee yesterday that a proposed bill to create a state workmen's compensation fund was unnecessary and undesirable competition to liberal private business. Wilkie condemned the proposal because, he said, it could do no more for workmen's insurance than the Wisconsin Alliance is doing today.

"Nowhere in the United States will you find such liberality, such promptness of benefit payments, such safety requirements as demanded by our alliance," he said. "Why, then, should the state enter into a business which is operating smoothly and successfully without complaint from the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, the state industrial commission or the employers?"

J. J. Handley, secretary of the state federation of labor, had previously endorsed the bill but did not answer Wilkie's statement. He explained that it was a "very important proposition" and said the federation had supported an identical bill defeated by the legislature in 1931.

Assemblyman John L. Sieb (R) Milwaukee, who sponsored the bill, said he was requested to do so by small manufacturers. It would create a compensation insurance department under a director and an advisory council of nine. The state is now engaged in other forms of insurance business.

NAME LINE COACH

Champaign, Ill. — Raymond T. Nusspickel, football and baseball coach at Illinois college at Jacksonville, will return to his alma mater, the University of Illinois, next September as assistant to Line Coach Justa Lindgren, Athletic Director Wendell S. Wilson announced last night.

PICK WAUKESHA FOR 1938

Sheboygan — A proposal to restore the Sheboygan marsh to its original state received additional impetus last night when the county board voted $5,000 towards building a new dam. The action followed the donation of 40 acres of marsh land for a dam site by Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan Press Editor.

Wagner Act Gives Labor Advantage, Lawrence Claims

Writer Charges Miss Perkins Has Lost Confidence of Employers

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Presumably acting for President Roosevelt, Secretary Perkins of the department of labor has just completed the second of a series of conferences designed to teach business men how to accept domination by labor unions in the least painful manner.

Although the department of labor has nothing to do with the most important tribunal in Washington today, namely the National Labor Relations board, Miss Perkins is nevertheless telling the employers gathered at her conference how important it is for them to refrain from asking for any amendment to the Wagner labor act. Her speeches or lectures or explanations of governmental labor policy are mainly to the effect that the Wagner act ought to have a chance to operate for a year or so before amendments are considered.

It so happens, of course, that the Wagner labor act has been in effect since July, 1935, and the theory of collective bargaining has not been questioned in the courts, but only the manner of its application. There is plenty of experience available already as to the one-sided nature of the Wagner act. It happened to catch the eye, incidentally, of the supreme court, which, in its majority opinion, took cognizance of the unfairness of the law, though declaring, of course, that this was not in itself a reason for rejecting the act in the particular lawsuit before the court at the time.

Miss Perkins tells the employers that, really, she would prefer to have the government keep out of labor disputes altogether, leaving the inference that all the squabbles and conflicts are matters to be worked out by the unions themselves. This has been her attitude throughout the sit-down strike situation, namely that she didn't know whether they were legal or not and that anyway labor was not to be publicly condemned for using such a weapon.

Nothing About Tactics
From nobody in the Roosevelt administration who has anything to do with the handling of labor matters has come a single word of condemnation of ruthless tactics by union organizers. A senate committee has been busy for weeks showing how things and spies are hired by employers—and it is a shameful practice of various employers which ought to be condemned—but not one bit of testimony has been introduced to show who started the sit-down strike in Michigan, what strong-arm men were imported from other states to lead the "sit-down" strikers and what was the nature of the "striking squadrons" of physically powerful agents of the textile unions employed during the big textile strike of a couple of years ago.

Miss Perkins may have a dozen conferences and the Roosevelt administration may talk about the importance of developing an attitude of love and neighborliness between capital and labor, but the reason why the conferences here are not getting anywhere—they are attended as a matter of perfunctory politeness—is that the Roosevelt administration does not believe fundamentally in being fair or impartial in the use of its governmental power.

Admit Partiality
Take the attitude of various persons connected with the National Labor Relations board. They frankly say they were charged by congress with the duty of being partisans of labor and that their primary job is to see to it that labor is organized into unions. Here and there a discordant note comes from someone in the regional boards who thinks that maybe the workers can have any kind of a union they want provided it is not forced on them by an employer or supported by company funds. But this view is the exception rather than the rule.

The administration theory about the Wagner act is that it should be operated a year or so before discussing amendments because by that time enough will have been learned about it to determine how it should be amended. Most business men would like to see the act amended before it subjects the economic system to more strikes and damage. One employer said that it reminded him of the way the surgeons used to bleed patients a century or so ago. If they survived then their constitutions were very good. If they died, it was certainly a sign of physical weakness.

Confidence Lost
The tragedy of the situation here is that President Roosevelt does not know that his secretary of labor has completely lost the confidence of most of the employers of the country. Whatever employers do nowadays they do because they wish to abide by the principle of a law upheld by the supreme court. Most of them do not expect justice in the application of the principle and would probably be surprised if they ever got it at the hands of an administration tribunal.

These things may sound harsh, but they are true and often the truth is most effective if it is plainly blurted out. Miss Perkins has a bright mind and knows the theory of labor relations better than anybody in Washington, but she has never had any direct experience in handling a labor problem under the financial responsibility of making ends meet in a large business and she is plainly not the type who can inspire the men who have to deal with labor problems every day.

There is a man in the department of labor—the assistant secretary—who is far from being a partisan of the employers. In fact he is a former executive of the American Federation of Labor. His name is Edward F. McGrady and his title is assistant secretary of labor. If he were the secretary of labor, business men might pay more attention to the department of labor. Miss Perkins belongs at the head of a department of social welfare, for which she would be the most capable person the administration could possibly find. There are various bureaus in the president's proposed plan of reorganization which could be grouped together for Miss Perkins to administer—but as far as making employers understand the New Deal concept of collective bargaining, not much headway is being made by the present secretary of labor.

Canadian Field Peas Neutral Crop Under Soil Plan

Admitted When Used as Emergency Forage, Agent Is Informed

Canadian field peas commonly sown with oats in the cooler Wisconsin counties to provide emergency forage have been added to the list of emergency forage crops which may be classified as neutral under the soil conservation program.

Notice received by R. C. Swanson, county agent, from the Wisconsin agricultural conservation committee, indicates that such field peas as emergency forage crops will be considered in the neutral forage group where their use helps to make up for a shortage of soil conserving crops.

Under the 1937 agricultural conservation program allowance is made for the use of crops such as wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax, clover, speltz and now Canadian field peas as emergency forage crops where much of the 1936 soil conserving acreage killed out. Such crops are ordinarily counted as soil depleting except where they are a substitute for soil conserving acreages.

The acreage on which such crops may qualify as neutral depends on the soil conserving base that will be determined for the farm, the acreage of old stands of soil conserving crops and the acreage of crop land that is idle.

On most general diversion farms, payments for shifting out of soil depleting crops may be claimed, the only base so far assigned is the soil depleting base. With the exception of certain acreage assignments for growers of sugar beets or of tobacco this year, and of commercial orchard or vegetable acreages, the rest of the crop land will equal the soil conserving base acreage for the farm.

To determine whether or not there is any soil conserving base acreage to spare for such emergency forage crops the old stands of soil conserving crops that are left this spring are added to any crop land that is idle. If this total is less than the soil conserving base acreage, then the difference may be planted to these emergency crops for hay or pasture without deducting from AAA payments that are otherwise available.

For example, a farmer that finds he has a soil conserving base of 40 acres, may find this spring that only 20 acres of soil conserving crops have survived the winter. Perhaps 5 acres of crop land will be left idle this year. That will leave 15 acres on which emergency forage crops may be grown under this neutral classification.

Legislative Bodies End Sessions With Drink Fest

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER

New York—Between the lines of a dispatch from Wilmington, it appears that the statesmen of the Delaware house of representatives got pie-eyed on the closing night of this year's session and probably forgot to appropriate the money to run the public schools for the next two years. The item speaks of boisterousness in the chamber on that night and boisterousness in American legislative bodies on get-away night usually amounts to a sous-party. It is a rite which has almost escaped public notice all this time, usually being dismissed with the words "hilarious scene" in the newspaper accounts, although journalists in Washington as well as state-house men in the minor capitals privately describe the hilarity as a great binge.

Fegler

It is dangerous for a reporter in the press gallery to single out individual members and say that they were drunk because it would be almost impossible to prove that and cautious description of the conduct of individuals does not convey the idea. A strict verbatim report of some of the incoherent orations bubbled into the confusion would hardly serve the purpose either because most of the statesmen are incapable of constructing a complete sentence even when sober.

Even though a member, or solon, falls on his face in the aisle and is dragged out by the heels he may indignantly declare next day that he fainted from over-exertion on behalf of his constituents.

Need Closer Attention
Nevertheless, these final exercises are an interesting clue to the character of legislative bodies and a graphic portrayal might help the citizens understand their government. The state legislatures, in particular, need closer attention, the more so in the big states where the legislature is regarded as a minor body and many citizens do not even know the names of their senators and representatives.

Legislators are almost alone in their right to get plastered while on public duty for bureau people, policemen, the army and navy, letter carriers and, nominally, even judges are supposed to keep sober during business hours, under penalty. As to judges, of course, the discipline is less strict and the honorable court usually is deemed fit for duty if he doesn't fall off the bench.

Decorum also provides that his honor shall not pull his quart out from under the bench and take a bait at the same in open court but he can avoid that by declaring a ten-minute recess and retiring to his chambers for a snort. Labor Party in England

Has Members Sign Pledge

In the British parliament the labor party circulates among its members a pledge to keep away from the bar during sessions and take no alcohol until the end of each day's deliberations which take place in the evening. This was found to be desirable in the face of the fact that some of the noblest old mans-shakers of Queen Victoria's time were two-bottle men, at that, who always kept themselves at the boiling point but grabbed much territory for her late majesty, even so.

The party leaders felt, however, that the average member could make enough mistakes cold sober and reckoned that if the other parties were drunk their party would show to advantage. It is an experiment noble in purpose, anyway.

Expect Legislature To Adjourn This Week
The New York legislature is expected to adjourn this week and, in view of the mishap to the school appropriation in Delaware the closing session probably will attract unusual public interest. As a rule the statesmen sing and utter speeches gently mocking the follies of their colleagues which is all right, to be sure, provided they do not forget any important business or pass any laws in a mood of foolishness which abolish the sacred heritage of Valley Forge as they are wont to describe the liberties of the American citizen.

The danger of their failing to pass any appropriations seems negligible and it is almost inconceivable that the Delaware legislature was drunk to the point where the appropriating instinct failed. Probably it will be found that they did appropriate for the schools and just don't remember.

The New York legislators have yet to act on a proposal that they pay the state income tax on their salaries. The boys may get bottled as usual, on closing night, they may pass a law to legalize burglary or a companion to the dog-race and book-makers monopoly acts, but though they get absolutely blind they will never pass that one. That is one instinct that will not desert them though the entire membership fall unconscious.

Recommendations of Citizens' Welfare Group Outlined in Talk

MORE cooperation between the probation, health, school and welfare officers to prevent people from being committed to institutions for delinquency, better provision for non-institutional care, and more adequate provision for treatment, especially of sub-normal or non-criminal cases, were the three recommendations made by the Citizens' Committee on Public Welfare to Governor Phillip LaFollette at his request, Dr. Gilbert S. Cox, pastor of First Methodist Episcopal church, who served on that body, said at the meeting of Argosy club of the Methodist church last night.

Dr. Cox explained the Citizens' Committee on Public Welfare, saying that it was a group representing a cross-section of the citizens of Wisconsin called by Governor LaFollette for the purpose of studying the whole human picture of the needs of the people of the state and recommending laws or methods for Wisconsin to set up a model both for itself and for the United States of dealing with that percentage of the population which is not able to take care of itself.

Some Fine Laws

Wisconsin has some of the best laws in regard to public welfare that can be found in the country, said Dr. Cox, pointing to the children's code of 1929 as an example of outstanding pieces of legislation. Wisconsin spent, between 1931 and 1936, the amount of $342,000, 000 on its public welfare program, he said, being aided in its work by the United States government. There are 417,000 people in Wisconsin who must be taken care of in one way or another, he went on, and up to the present time there is no state which has faced this situation in anything but an emergency measure. Now, after seven years, he added, this state along with the entire United States must face it, not as an emergency, but as a permanent situation in which provision must be made for these people.

For this reason, Governor LaFollette called this committee together, said Dr. Cox. It was divided into four groups, child welfare, health, public aid and delinquency, the speaker having served on the latter group.

Discuss Institutions

The speaker discussed the various institutions of correction and care in Wisconsin including the children's home at Sparta, the girls' industrial school at Milwaukee and the school for boys at Waukesha, the reformatory at Green Bay and the institutions for men and women at Waupun and Taycheedah, pointing out that all except the women's prison is greatly overcrowded.

In explaining the recommendations of the committee, Dr. Cox said that the investigation which the members conducted throughout the state showed that there was little cooperation between the various agencies such as the probation, health, school and welfare officers, and added that if a child who might be a candidate for an institution could be helped before he has committed a crime or an offense against the law, he might be kept from an institution. Discussing the problem of probation, he said that while much of the prejudice throughout the country against paroles is well placed, where there is a good, conscientious parole board and officer, many of the people in institutions would be better off if they were allowed to earn their own livings. As for juvenile probation, he continued, many young people in institutions should not be there if they had someone to look after them.

Change Ideas

People must change their old idea that prisons are for punishment, Dr. Cox pointed out, and realize that they are intended to remake people into good citizens and teach them to go back into the world and live good lives. The inmates need discipline, he agreed, but the kind that will help them find the way back to good citizenship. He explained that there are people in prisons and reformatories who need psychiatrists more than prison guards, and there is today very little provision for this type of treatment. He also recommended that judges be given more leeway in the matter of fixing sentences for certain offenses, adding that circumstances alter cases.

Preceding his talk Dr. Cox sang a group of spring songs including "May Morning," a Negro spiritual entitled "Didn't It Rain?" "Song of Joy" and "The Year's At the Spring." Mrs. Earl Fourness accompanied him.

Pupils Sing

A group of sixth grade pupils of Wilson Junior High school sang several numbers under the direction of Wilfred Harris. The selections included "Green Cathedral," "Summer Time," "Cherubim Song," "Life Time Eggs" from the oratorio, "Elijah" and "Home Sweet Home." Miss Irene Bidwell played the piano accompaniment for the first numbers, and the others were sung a cappella.

Standing committees for next year were appointed by Miss Audrey Foote, president, as follows: Ways and means, Miss Viola Weber, chairman; Miss Catherine Ausman, co-chairman; Miss Mabel Millard, Mrs. Mabel Johnson, Miss Laura Gordon and Miss Loretta Ricker; devotionals, Miss Bidwell; social, Miss Mave Holmberg; program, Miss Emma Beer, chairman; Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Mildred Nichols, Miss Dorothy Tanton and Miss Lois Smith; decorations and serving, Miss Lorraine Dettman; good cheer, Miss Ilabce Stern; mates, Miss Daisy Basch, chairman; Miss Harriet Bounds, Miss Hulda Reuss and Miss Carol Short; membership, Miss Short; little sister, Miss Ferna Taylor; dinner, Miss Bernice Clifford.

Miss Laura Bohn was appointed chairman of the picnic which will be held the latter part of May. The group decided to hold the first fall meeting Sept. 14 instead of the first Tuesday, and also decided to continue the "little sister" project for next year. Miss Ilabce Stern, retiring president, was presented with a gift from the members.

LEGION AUXILIARY PAYS TRIBUTE TO GOLD STAR MOTHERS

Royal Theme Is Basis for Dinner Dance

"C ORONATION CLUB" blazed in electric lights outside Riverview Country club last night, for the crowning of England's king and queen this month had given the Appleton Century club the idea for its final dinner-dance of the season. In the course of the evening all of the 106 men and women who attended the party had become royalty, as two little cigar girls, Billie Kolb and Jean Rindal, passed through the crowd, giving silver tiaras to the women and little gold crowns to the men as favors.

Before they distributed the favors the two girls were part of the floor show, presenting a tap dance number. Athleen Atkins and Orrin Billington of Neenah also danced.

Since no coronation affair would be complete without a king and queen, the committee had also provided for that. Because the coronation date is May 12, it was decided that the couple who drew No. 12 for the exchange dance should be their majesties, the king and queen. They were Glen Hoffmann, who was presented with a scepter, and Mrs. Carl McKee, who was given a bouquet.

Regal Atmosphere The atmosphere at the affair was regal, but the decorations were in night club style, with checked table cloths on the tables, and bottles used as candle holders. Balloons added still further to the gayety.

The committee responsible for the party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Eisig, chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kahn, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Buchman, Mr. and Mrs. Asher Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams.

Among those who entertained at cocktail parties before the dinner-dance were Mr. and Mrs. Myron Ray, Mr. and Mrs. David Gallaher

600 Persons Hear High School Band In Chapel Concert

More than 600 persons heard the Appleton high school band in a public concert Tuesday night at Lawrence Memorial chapel. So popular were the selections that all of the band's prepared encores had to be played. E. C. Moore was the director, and solos were played by Karl Kolb on the trombone and Albert Wickesberg on the flute.

A woodwind quintet composed of John Huebner, Albert Wickesberg, Marjorie Patterson, Carolyn Stroetz and Earl Lipske, and a clarinet sextette made up of Kathryn Peterson, Ray Thomas, Roy Nofke, Edward Alesch, Margaret Hawley and Harold Olson were well received. Accompanists were Cecil Newbecker and Mrs. Leone Tesch Ferron.

and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hoffmann and Mr. and Mrs. Don Morrissey. The latter two couples entertained together.

Gold Star Mothers are Feted Here

FIFTY mothers of ex-service men including Gold Star mothers were honored at a luncheon and program given by the local unit of American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon at Elk hall. Each mother received a picture from the auxiliary, and Mrs. August Arens extended greetings to the guests and read a poem in their honor.

'Modern Greece' Is Topic Of Address Before Guild

IF any of her listeners had thought of Greece as a backward country, with nothing to be proud of except its glorious past, they had a different picture of it when Mrs. George Katsoulas completed her talk on "Modern Greece" at a meeting of the Presbyterian Guild Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. W. Murphy, 813 E. College avenue.

The system of compulsory education in Greece is the oldest in the world, Mrs. Katsoulas said; and the new, Obstetrical hospital of Mrs. Helena Venizelos, wife of the former premier, has a private bath and hot running water in each of its 200 rooms and is probably the most modern hospital in the world. She told also of other hospitals and schools and described modern Athens, intellectually and commercially the queen of all Greek cities and unusually charming because it is all white in color, she said.

Because the congress of the United States expressed its sympathy for Greece when it began, its struggle for independence from Turkey in 1821, the Greeks have been forever grateful to America, Mrs. Katsoulas said. Those who have come here to make their home, she declared, have never given worry or trouble to their adopted land.

When she had finished her talk, she showed the women articles of hand-made lace, crochet and cut work which she had obtained in Greece, as well as two pieces of home-spun silk and a changeable saffron velvet coat more than 100 years old that had belonged to her great-great-grandmother.

Mrs. E. F. Mielke, who has been program chairman of the Guild during the last year, introduced the speaker. Mrs. Elmer Mokros was in charge of devotions. At the business session which followed the program, plans were made for a food sale to be held May 22 as a Guild project.

Twenty-nine members were present at the meeting, and Mrs. Murphy was assisted as hostess by Mrs. C. A. Olson, Mrs. M. C. Towner, Mrs. John Van Caster and Mrs. W. E. Rollinson.

The Guild's next meeting will take place June 1 at the home of Mrs. M. G. Fox, 413 S. Walnut street.

Japan's Love of Beauty Is Her Greatest Gift to World, Church Circle Told

JAPAN'S love of beauty is her greatest gift to the world, said Miss Hazel Verry, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Green Bay, in an illustrated lecture on Japan at the meeting of Circle 2 of First Congregational church Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ralph J. Watts, 742 E. John street. The western world has much to learn from Japan, namely her instinctive courtesy and her appreciation of art in any form, she added.

The beauty that comes from strife and struggle rather than from ease and repose is the beauty most appreciated by the Japanese, said Miss Verry. Character is appreciated in Japan, she went on, the person who can endure, who has quiet strength and courage from meeting and overcoming difficulties being considered the finest character.

Makes Comparison
Comparing Japan to a piece of Japanese brocade, Miss Verry said that viewed from the wrong side it has no pattern but is just a mass of tangled threads, but from the right side it shows a pattern of loveliness. She spoke of the poetry of Japan and told of the annual poetry contest held at New Year's time under the direction of the emperor.

The colored slides which were shown in connection with Miss Verry's talk showed many of the beauty spots of Japan, its historic shrines and typical scenes. Mt. Fuji, the highest peak in Japan, was shown as well as several of the islands and rivers; a glimpse of the fan maker was given; and a picture showing housecleaning time was thrown on the screen. Miss Verry explained that the Japanese government requires that everyone clean his house twice a year at a certain time, regardless of how often he does it of his own accord.

Cherry Blossoms
Many pictures showed the cherry blossoms which are characteristic of Japan, Miss Verry said that the cherry tree is a symbol of Japan for it embodies beauty in the fragile blossoms and endurance in its wood which is the hardest in the world. She explained that the trees do not bear fruit, but the blossoms are cultivated only for their beauty. Azaleas in bright red, white and rose-color, the lotus which is sacred to Buddha, and wisteria and chrysanthemums in all colors were shown also. Other pictures showed a Japanese and a Japanese garden, the lacquered red bridge over which no one but the imperial family is allowed to cross, and groups

Must Always Keep Lead To Partner's Good Suit

BY ELY CULBERTSON
Watching a game composed of supposedly better-than-average players the other day, I was not a little surprised to find that one of the cardinal principles of defense was unknown in that particular group. The hand was in no way exceptional but as a type that recurs time and again, warrants discussion.

The bidding:
North 1♣ East 1♥ South 2♠ West 3♠

South's two no trump bid was not good, containing as it did only a single stopper in the opponents' suit. It is true that South had a good hand, but a double raise in his partner's suit would have represented his holding as accurately and more safely.

West dutifully opened his highest card of his partner's suit. Dummy played low and East's ten was allowed to bid the heart king continuation went to the ace, and five rounds of clubs followed.

West, after following to two rounds of clubs, began to agonize over his discards. His first discard was easy—a low diamond, and on the fourth club he heroically (although reluctantly) parted with a low spade. The fifth club seemed to give him less trouble than the preceding ones. To his partner's anguish he nonchalantly flipped out his remaining "worthless" heart.

East meanwhile had properly reduced to the blank king-queen of spades, three hearts, and the blank king of diamonds.

A diamond was led from dummy and declarer smothered East's king with the ace. A diamond continuation gave West his precious queen, but nothing could prevent declarer from winning another diamond trick and the spade ace for the fulfillment of his contract.

The principle to which I referred earlier, and with which West was obviously unfamiliar, was the necessity for him to hang on for dear life to a card of his partner's established suit. West could count six tricks already won by the declarer, these, with the ace of spades in sight, would make the contract ice cold. Or, if declarer had nothing in diamonds but did have the king-queen of spades guarded, three spade tricks would have the same effect.

Thus, since to assume that declarer had either of these combinations was tantamount to "giving up" West must decidedly hold on to his ace of spades. He should have parted cheerfully with another diamond or another spade. In fact, he should have made any necessary sacrifice rather than part with that vital communication card in his partner's suit.

Stanley's Adventures in Africa

III—NATIVE CUSTOMS
There was no time for Stanley and his men to put up the sail. They paddled as best they could with the boards but warriors in the canoes were coming closer. Stanley picked up a rifle and fired several shots. Two of the canoes were tipped over in the excitement, and the men in them fell into the water. This made the other savages stop the chase to save their comrades from drowning.

At another village, Stanley met a chief called Mwana Ngoy. This chief wore a robe made from woven grass. The robe was folded in many ways and the explorer estimated that it contained 24 square yards of material. It was "drawn in double folds" about his waist with tags, tassels and fringes, and was "painted in brown, black, white and yellow." On his head was a feather head-dress.

In some villages, the women had long hair. It was rather "kinky" but sometimes reached down as far as the waist. Women in these villages did most of the housework. They went to the creeks and rivers to catch fish and to the forest to gather firewood. They also cared for the children, cooked the meals, and worked in the gardens.

Don't Call Child Baby In Front of Playmates

BY ANGELO PATRI
"I've come in to ask you to help me with my baby girl."
"Yes? How can I help you?"
"The older children are picking on her, and some of them aren't very nice in their language. I don't want my baby to learn bad language."
"Certainly not. Where do the older children meet the child?"
"In school. And the teacher doesn't seem to understand and just smiles and says, 'Don't mind. Just laugh at them. They are only playing with you. I'm so worried.'"

"I'm afraid I don't understand. How does the baby get to school?"
"I bring her every day. I couldn't let her come alone."
"But why? How is it that a baby is coming to school? We have no nursery class here and—"

"She is in the second grade. Miss Betty's class. I bring her every day and come for her so the other children won't hurt her. I'd like you to see her. She is really a lovely child, and why they should pick on her—"

The baby was brought into the office. She was a girl seven and a half years old, large for her age, and carrying her full weight. She looked fine and fit.

"This is my baby Jane," said the mother, her eyes moist with maternal sympathy.

"I'm glad to see you, Jane. What seems to be wrong?"

"Nothing. I'm getting along all right, but the girls tease me because my mother calls me her baby and I wish she wouldn't. . . O, yes, I like school. It's just that mother makes a fuss because the girls tease me. They wouldn't if she wouldn't. And I wish she wouldn't. I'm not a baby. I'm in the second half of the second grade."

Fet names are for the exclusive use of the family, and they ought to be used there with discrimination. A name becomes so closely associated with its owner that it comes to symbolize its owner in the minds of his friends and associates. The child who is known as "Baby" is going to be severely handicapped among her companions. School is no place for "Baby" and the hearty youngsters who give and take in the wholesome fashion of the playground, are likely to make that clear to the "Baby."

Give a child a good name, one that has stood the test of generations—Daniel, John, David, Mary, Kate and Anne, such names—and call the child by his own name. A child ought to get spiritual support from his name, knowing that it has been borne by his ancestors, good

Movie Stars Emphasize Good Points

BY ELSIE PIERCE
We find ourselves quoting Wally Westmore's advice quite frequently in this column. Not only because he is regarded as an ace make-up specialist, not only because his advice is so sound, but because it is usually so encouraging to the average woman. And, after all, it is the average woman who is nearest this column's heart.

According to this make-up specialist a ravishing beauty has little or no chance of being a motion picture star. "The woman with perfect features, with what is called flawless beauty, doesn't click in Hollywood."

Which should please us, even if we are not on a movie-contract bent, because Hollywood's standards should certainly be good enough for us.

Actresses have selling points—things about them which stand out and make you remember them. A face that is interesting, a personality that is charming makes for a more compelling beauty than merely perfect features.

Westmore points out that Claudette Colbert sells herself as a beauty through her large and beautiful eyes, with their long, naturally curled lashes, beautiful brows and depth of expression.

The rest of her face is not extraordinarily beautiful . . . and does not need to be. She does the rest of the excellent job through personality.

Point Up Your "Selling Points"
Much as we have emphasized that perfection of features is not the all-important or the foremost requisite of modern beauty, I don't think we have quite convinced the average woman. Because if more women would be encouraged to point up their "selling points" . . . to enhance their best features and then develop their charm, cultivate their personality so that they would compel interest and admiration, and "be remembered"—in a favorable way, of course.

Very often for the sake of interest, stars emphasize their worst feature, and so cleverly that it becomes the outstanding, and beautiful feature, the thing we remember about them.

Analyze yourself, take an inventory of your good points and start the "pointing up" job. To my mind the two basic steps to beauty are HEALTH and GOOD GROOMING. Not necessarily perfection of facial features.

My bulletins "Health Rules" and "Good Grooming Rules" are yours for a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope. Be sure to request them by name. Address Miss Pierce in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

A LIST OF QUESTIONS FROM HOSTESSES
The following list of questions was sent to me by a group of hostesses:

1—Should the place plates for lunch be as large as the dinner place plates?

Answer: There is really no rule about the plates with which you set your table further than that they ought not to be either larger or smaller than the largest and smallest plates used throughout the meal. Whether they are of the same size as the plates used for the meat or somewhat smaller does not matter.

2—One of us has a set of dinner dishes more than twenty-five years old. There are a great many extra large plates, which are obviously service plates, but there are no dinner plates, the new ones being lunch or supper plates. Could these large plates be used for dinner plates?

Answer: These large plates are dinner plates. They are also to be used as place (or service) plates. Set apart service plates with the dessert plates, the new ones being lunch or supper plates. Could these large plates be used for dinner plates?

3—Are there any exceptions when plates are not removed from the right or when food is not served from the left?

Answer: Plates may be removed from either left or right. Plates should be proffered at the left always. Of course if the left shoulder of the person dining is against a wall, or if in any other way his left side is blocked in, the plates may be presented the dish as best she (or he) can.

4—When removing plates before dessert, is it incorrect for the waitress to remove the dinner plate and the bread and butter plate at the same time? In other words, may she carry something away in each hand?

Answer: She must not pile one plate on top of the other but since no exchange plate is put down between men and true. He cannot find any strength in pet names like Baby, Babe, Lover, Dinky, Tiny, Flower. Flower may be a lovely word, but there are times, in the lives of most children when it would be ill-applied as a name.

Give a child a name he can live up to, live by, be known by. One that will make him lift his head proudly at the sound of it. One that is easy to say and easy to listen to. A child's name is his own. Nobody ought to lay hold on it to express overflowing emotions. Call a baby a baby and give a child his own sturdy name.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to questions of parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

"Unionization" of Girls Wouldn't Work, Says Dix

BY DOROTHY DIX
A Chicago clergyman advises women to "unionize" to get men away from their present idea that they are doing a girl a favor when they take her out, and that a wife never can be grateful enough to a man for having married her.

I have been preaching this same doctrine for a long time. For years I have been telling girls that their humble, subservient, down-on-their-knees, thank-you-kindly-sir-for-designing-to-notice-me attitude to boys is all wrong, and that if they would demand a little courtesy and chivalry from young men they would get it.

Furthermore, they would receive more attentions from men, for it is the nature of man to desire those things that he has to work and strive for, and to despise those things that he can take or leave without turning his hand to it. It is because girls hold themselves so cheaply that many boys feel that they don't rate much in the way of ev-enough politeness.

The idea girls seem to be unable to get under their finger waves is the fact that women are just as necessary to men as men are to women, and that a boy can not more have a good time going to a party without a girl than a girl can have a good time going to a party without a boy. No boy enjoys dancing with another boy. No boy wants to spend his money on taking another boy for a moonlight ride. He has to have a girl for a playmate to get any pep out of the game.

Hence, if he knew no girl would go out with him if he looked like fore dessert, she may take one in each hand.

5—When can silver bread and butter plates be used?
Answer: Whenever bread and butter plates are to be put on table.

6—In a simple house with only one general maid, is it better to set the places with all the flat silver to be used, through dessert?

Answer: If your general maid is to wait on the table, she should be taught to do so properly, and this means that the dessert spoon and fork should be brought on with the dessert plates. All the silver necessary for the courses before dessert should be set at the places.

7—Are electric candles with beaded shades used at the present time?
Answer: Not in private houses. In restaurants, yes.

Old Gardener Says:

By E. I. Farrington
A particularly desirable annual to fill in beds of daffodils and tulips, which have passed their blooming period, is the California poppy. The seed should be sown where they are to grow after danger of frost is past. They do well in any well-drained soil, but prefer to grow in a sunny location. Two new varieties, Gloaming and Golden Rod, are considerably better than the older forms. Gloaming has petals the inside of which are yellow suffused with rose and an outside of deep red. Golden Rod are borne on stems which are particularly erect. The large blooms are a bright golden orange and the plants have attractive bluish-green foliage.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood—John Trent, 29, and six feet tall, would have you believe that he isn't getting as many fan letters as his studio would have you believe he is.

That's John Trent's modesty speaking, with a grin.

Well, I guess a few of 'em do trouble him, he says. "About just enough to keep me going."

The truth, as usual, lies somewhere between Trent's modesty and the studio's enthusiasm.

LaVerne Brown was a TWA pilot when a scout for B. P. Schulz, his handsome six feet, his handsome face, and the admiration of women passengers. He tried to get Brownie to Hollywood right away, but the pilot was stand-offish.

"I didn't want to rush into anything," John Trent says. "I was making $750 a month as a pilot, and I didn't know anything about pictures. I didn't want to jeopardize my standing by resigning."

When the airline agreed to make him a reserve pilot at $1 a month, he changed his mind and came out.

An Orange, Calif. boy, Trent early decided to become a pilot. He went into training for the purpose, here and in Virginia, and became a crackjack.

"I don't know anything about acting, but from what I've seen it's not so different from flying," he says. "When you're a transport pilot you've got to concentrate on a lot of things at once, you've got to handle all kinds of situations and keep a cool level head. In pictures you've got to do the same things." (That's true, of course—unless you figure that in pictures you can do a re-take.)

Trent is going about his picture career as he did about aviation. He wants to know what makes things tick.

"I don't know how all this will turn out," he says, "but if I'm a flop here I can go back to piloting. Meanwhile, it's interesting and maybe I'll make a go of it."

It looks, too, as if he will.

A 10-year-old Jersey cow owned by Claude Duffy of Gaston, Ind., has given birth to three sets of twin calves.

85 Delegates at Opening Session Of Church Meet

Winnebago Association of Congregational Church Gathers

New London—About 85 delegates attended the first sessions of the annual meeting of the Winnebago Association of Congregational churches and ministers at the First Congregational church here yesterday afternoon and evening. The same number were entertained at the fellowship supper at the church parlors in the evening with the moderator, the Rev. Samuel Bullock of Plymouth, presiding, and F. L. Zaig of the local parish acting as toastmaster.

The Rev. L. A. Parr of Green Bay gave a brief fellowship talk after the dinner and the regular evening session began at 8 o'clock with a devotional service led by the Rev. H. P. Freeling of Antigo. The Rev. David F. Bent, Oshkosh, delivered the sermon. There was a vocal solo by H. H. Brockhaus. An offering also was taken for ministerial aid.

After registration and organization which began at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Superintendent Charles H. Wicks, Eau Claire, chose as the subject of his talk, "Our Common Task," his theme concerning the spreading of the gospel truths.

Discussion of missions and mission work occupied the afternoon program. A report of the missionary committee was heard from the chairman, the Rev. W. A. Jacobs, Menasha. Mrs. T. E. Orison, Appleton children's secretary of the World Fellowship Council of Wisconsin Women, explained the women's part in the spreading of missionary work. Speaking on the status of missionary offerings the Rev. John B. Hanna of Appleton reported that church offerings were on the increase and have progressed steadily in most areas despite the depression.

The remainder of the 150 delegates were expected for the only business session at 9 o'clock this morning. The conference closed with benediction at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Freeling was named scribe for the duration of the conference.

Certificates also were presented to Dr. J. F. Corbett of Milwaukee and Charles Hahn of Fremont. Horace Borham, 92, of Chicago also was to be so honored but was unable to attend because of ill health.

New London Swamps Waupaca Squad in Dual Track Meet at Washington High

New London—The New London High school track team overwhelmed Waupaca High 84 1-3 to 31 1-3 in a dual meet at the Washington High school grounds here yesterday afternoon. The meet was planned as a triangular affair but due to a misunderstanding the Marion team failed to appear. Several hundred high school students lined the track in support of the high school squad.

The Stacy thincalms took first in every event but the distance runs, the mile and half mile in which they took second, and dropped only five second places in 12 events. They scored two grand slams and won the relay in a close race.

Set Tough Pace
The Red and White tracksters set a tough pace in all events with Phil Clark, senior, coping three firsts, the 440-yard dash, the low hurdles and the pole vault. He led the dash by an easy 10 yards in 55.4 seconds and cleared the bar to win at nine feet six inches with a foot to spare.

Melvin Glocke took two firsts in the weight events and Robert Yost set the pace in the high jump and high hurdles. Victor Barlow, a freshman, just edged his way into first place by a hair in the 100-yard dash. Douglas Hoier, a sophomore, promises real competition in high jumping and hurdles next year. He took second in both yesterday and has out-jumped Yost, senior. William Schmidt, another redheaded freshman, showed the ability to develop into a first class miler when he came in third yesterday behind Douglas Zernicke, New London man.

Bernard Brault took the board jump on his final attempt with 20 feet 1 inch, followed by Yost and Francis Meinhardt who placed second and third for New London, respectively. Ned Demming led Brault and Barlow to make a clean sweep for the locals in the 220-yard dash. Saturday, May 15, the squad will go to Green Bay to take part in the district meet.

List Results
Following is the record of yesterday's events:
100-yard dash—Barlow, (N), first; Court (W), second; Demming (N), third. Time, 10.5.
220-yard dash—Demming (N), first; Brault (N), second; Barlow (N), third. Time, 25.0.
440-yard dash—Clark (N), first; Meinhardt (N), second; Curt (W), third. Time, 55.4.
Half mile—Hemmington (W), first; Wilkinson (N), second; Raabe (W), third. Time, 2:13.
Mile—Griffith (W), first; Zernicke (N), second; Schmidt (N), third. Time, 4:52.
High jump—Yost (N), first; Hoier, (N), second; Court (W), third. Height, 5 feet 6 inches.
Broad jump—Brault (N), first;

Appoint Five to Board of Appeals Under Zoning Law

Mayor's Appointments are Confirmed by Common Council

New London—Five men, one from each ward, were appointed to the city board of appeals under the new zoning ordinance in New London by Mayor E. W. Wendlandt and confirmed by the common council at the regular meeting last night.

Subject to acceptance are the appointments of John Viel, First ward, for one year; Fred Morack, Second ward, two years; Walter Spiering, Third ward, two years; Andrew Lueck, Fourth ward, three years; and Francis Werner, Fifth ward, three years. Andrew Lueck was named chairman of the board. Following expiration of the above terms new appointments will be made for the full term of three years.

The purpose of the board of appeals is to settle all questions and disputes arising from building and expansion problems in the city. The members serve without compensation and the city clerk will act as secretary.

George Fuerst, 215 E. Spring street, was appointed to the police and fire commission for a term of five years to succeed A. L. Haase, who declined to accept reappointment. The appointment of Fuerst was confirmed by the council, effective May 1.

Board Given Control
The recreation board appointed at the last meeting of the council was given, by official action, complete jurisdiction and supervisory control of all city parks and authority to supervise all playground facilities in the city. The authority was requested by Harold A. Pieper, backed by William Litts, both council members of the committee. The group now will outline a summer recreation program and work out all operation and schedule details for the new pool at the Hatten Community Recreational park.

In regard to the new pool which is expected to open June 1, Dr. F. J. Pfeiffer, city health officer, appeared before the council and explained the safety and health requirements under state registration laws.

A change in the fencing around the pool is necessary, he said, to bring the limits of the enclosure to the very edge of the concrete ramp. Spectators are not allowed inside the fence, he reported, and all dirt into the pool and require cleaning more often, an expensive process.

Plans Visits
The health officer plans to visit pools in other cities in the near future to determine how they are operated without undue expense. In the case of New London with a limited budget and no surplus funds the venture must be made self-sustaining. Concessions and small admission charges at specified times are two sources of revenue available, the doctor suggested.

A listing of the five attendants which probably will be required included a man and woman to carry out the boys and girls swimming programs, a locker attendant, general life guard and caretaker and a man to attend the filter and pump machinery and make the necessary chemical tests of the water.

The application of John McGowan for life guard was read at the meeting last night. Applications previously were filed by Miss June Meiklejohn and Charles Pfeiffer.

New Ordinance
A new ordinance was read pertaining to the installation of electrical wiring and fixtures in new homes and present buildings without proper inspection and supervision to guard against fire hazards dangerous wiring conditions. It was laid over to the next meeting. The new ordinance will make the superintendent of the light and water department the city electrical inspector and all major installations subject to his approval before electrical power will be made available. Request for the ordinance was made by local electricians and officials of the city light and water department who declared too many people do their own work inadequately, thereby increasing the fire hazards and other dangers to life. The ordinance was drawn up by City Attorney Giles H. Putnam and patterned after that of other cities who have found it worthy.

The council approved the suit action brought against Julian Breckstone for unpaid personal property taxes of $292.50. The action was filed in circuit court at Waupaca by the city attorney who was so instructed by Mayor Wendlandt.

Disallow Claim
The claim of $410 by J. F. Seering for damages resulting from an auto accident on United States Highway 45 at the hospital curve south of the city on February 6 was disallowed on recommendation of the city attorney. The claim was based on the icy conditions of the road while the city disclaimed the bill on authority of the courts of Wisconsin which have held that no municipality is liable for accidents due to such weather conditions.

A claim of $40.50 by George Van Tassel who fell on the icy streets and broke his arm was disallowed for the same reason.

The problem of loose dogs in the city was settled for the time being by instructing the public properties committee to establish a dog pound somewhere in the city, probably at the city sheds. The police department has been at a loss what to do with stray dogs as the city has no place to keep them. A city ordinance provides that they be kept at the dog pound for five days and if not called for by that time to be disposed of. A former pound proved worthless because the dogs dug their way out underneath the enclosure. Statutes require all dogs to be tied for the summer after May 1.

Students Earn Money to Purchase New Telescope

New London—After earning $15 through concessions and sales at school, students of the general science class at Lincoln Junior High school were rewarded this week when they became the proud owners of a 45-power astronomical telescope. They had hoped to purchase a better quality instrument than they have but school work interfered with their plans and there is little time left to raise more money.

Now some of the boys are planning to make a light stand to hold the long-distance magnifier.

The idea of buying the instrument originated during the first semester study of the universe and elementary astronomy. The glass enables students to see the craters on the moon and other more visible aspects of the heavens. The groups plan to use the telescope on hikes to study different species of birds and other elusive bits of nature more closely.

West Tells How Paper Institute Made Its Growth

Also Explains Purposes And Some of Its Services in Talk

How the Institute of Paper Chemistry became a national institution, its purposes and some of its services and the work he himself does as its editor were described by Dr. C. J. West in a talk before the Appleton Rotary club Tuesday noon at the Hotel Northern.

Conceived in the fall of 1929 through the joint efforts of Lawrence college and the paper industry of the Fox River valley, the Institute's first class, in February, 1930, numbered three students, Dr. West explained. Dr. Otto Kress was the one instructor. Today there are 43 students and a teaching and research staff of about 75, he said.

It has become a national institution, he declared, peculiar in that all of its students are graduates of recognized colleges, already possessing bachelor degrees. They spend four years at the Institute, receiving the M. S. degree after the first two years and the Ph. D. after the fourth year. It is a place, he explained, in as much as its president is the president of Lawrence college, but that is about as far as the connection goes. The Institute, he said, is supported by 60 member companies with mills all over the United States.

Lead in Industry
The 10 men who make up the board of trustees are some of the leading men in the paper industry, Dr. West said.

The Institute's four purposes he continued, are first, education; second, fundamental as well as applied research for the paper industry; third, development of a library for the use of the industry; and fourth, to furnish a place where the industry can go with its problems.

Dr. West's official title at the Institute is editor. Every technical publication that goes out from the Institute passes first over his desk. He must see that the papers are in forms that can be read and that the statements are made clearly. He also looks over each of the theses or dissertations which students who are candidates for a degree must write.

What Has Been Done
"It is a necessity," Dr. West said, "for a research man to know what has been done. More money can be wasted in industrial research by not knowing what has already been done than in almost any other way."

Therefore when one of the member companies sends in a problem, Dr. West looks for information as to what has already been attempted toward the solution of the problem before the Institute begins work on it.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. Robert K. Bell.

Protest Sale of Paine Company's Delinquent Taxes

Menasha Supervisors Lead Move to Block County's Action

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau)

Oshkosh — Menasha supervisors and city officials Tuesday conducted a heavy "offensive" against the action of the Winnebago County board in accepting the bid of J. J. Davis for approximately $46,000 for delinquent tax certificates of the Paine Lumber company, Oshkosh, originally assessed at double that figure.

However, when the arguments ceased, it was generally agreed there was nothing they could do to stop the action, and C. O. Allen, town of Oshkosh supervisor arranged to have supervisors by stating: Whether you did it legally or not."

Mr. Sonnenberg, former supervisor from Menasha, who began his talk to the supervisors by stating: Whether you did it legally or not."

Mr. Sonnenberg referred to a Menasha paper mill which several years ago was in the same situation in regard to delinquent taxes as the Paine company. However, he asserted, the Menasha concern was given no consideration by the county board and ceased operation, throwing many men out of work.

He also mentioned a bill now before the legislature which would list all tax exempt properties in the state. "And if the bill is passed, and the properties are listed," he told the board, "it will certainly amaze you."

He opposed the action of the county board in the Paine matter, warning that it created a dangerous precedent, and charged the board discriminated in favor of one plant and one locality.

"We know there has not to be a change in industry," he said. "When one plant moves out another must move in. But what you have done with the Paine taxes is to load them on the shoulders of the laboring man. Who is going to buy delinquent tax certificates at face value when we have offered them for less than that?" he asked.

John J. Stommel, Menasha supervisor, also attacked the action of the board, and said he was in accord with Mr. Sonnenberg. "The matter of extending this privilege to one particular plant in the county is a dangerous wedge," he warned the board. "If the wedge sticks other plants will push it even further."

Edward C. McKenzie, Menasha city attorney, also spoke briefly against the action of the board, and questioned the legality.

Supervisor Heckner read a letter into the records from George Banta, who stated it was in response to his request for an opinion as to the disposition of the delinquent tax certificates. The latter pointed out that if concessions are made in delinquent tax certificates "one could hardly expect them to redeem others at face value." The opinion hinted the board "ought to proceed with caution" and repeated that "no locality ought to be favored."

Mr. Stommel, Menasha supervisor, then read his opinion given to County Treasurer Fuller, as to whether the county clerk could assign the tax certificates to the Paine company, and whether the county treasurer could issue them when he received payment. He said the county clerk and treasurer had the power to do this, and cited a statute to that effect.

In response to a request by Supervisor Heckner, District Attorney Magnusen agreed to give an opinion to the board on this matter in writing. He also told the board that when the certificates had been advertised and the bid accepted no further ratification by the board was necessary.

Voters to Read Proceedings
When it was understood that no further action could be taken by the county board, Supervisor Heckner stated he wanted his constituents to read the proceedings and learn he had done all that was possible to prevent it.

District Attorney Magnusen took occasion to warn the county board that "if any monkey wrench is thrown into the wheels on the Paine matter now, it might ruin the whole proposition, and the plant might not start."

He said that he had been told in confidence that the plant would be taken over in about 20 days and that "this reputable Winnebago county citizens have advanced the money." He said further that with reorganization of the company completed and taxes removed that "$25,000" will be placed in the plant to get operations started.

Nothing in Writing
Supervisor Heckner complained that the Paine company has care-

Halvor Olson to Make Census of School Children

Several Teacher Contracts Are Approved by Board

Neenah — A school census will be taken in Neenah this year by Halvor Olson, according to a decision made by the board of education at a meeting in the Neenah High school last evening. The board approved $100 for the project.

Floyd Bricknell appeared before the board in the interests of the Neenah Lions club to install a safety patrol system at the various schools. No action was taken on the proposal.

Transportation will be provided for the pupils in the first three grades to the high school athletic field to participate in the mass demonstration and memorial day program on Friday afternoon, May 29. C. F. Hedges, superintendent, is in charge of the arrangements.

Award Contracts
Contracts for the following teachers were approved: Carl Williams, Laura F. Uley, Grace Breitenreiter. The teachers will begin their duties next September. The salary of Ed Braemer, groundskeeper, was set at $115 a month from April through October and at $85 a month from November through March.

A letter was read by C. F. Hedges from John Callahan, state superintendent of schools, commending Neenah on its opportunity room at Kaukauna school. Mr. Hedges gave a report on the recent meeting of the Wisconsin School Bands and City Superintendents association.

Insurance expiring this year will be given to the Neenah Insurance board and a supplemental contract will be added at a cost of $109.70. The bid of the Home Fuel company for coal during the 1937-38 term was accepted by the board. Bills and salaries totaling $17,561.80 were allowed.

fully refrained from giving the county board any assurance in writing they would commence operations. District Attorney Magnusen explained this was necessary to comply with the statutes. Heckner asked if the $25,000 referred to would not be used to "replace machinery removed before."

C. O. Allen, town of Oshkosh supervisor, then explained he also had been informed "in confidence" by Mayor Wiechering that in several weeks money would flow into the plant in "considerable quantities" making the $25,000 mentioned by District Attorney Magnusen appear "small potatoes."

The matter was dropped when on motion of Supervisor Allen, it was decided to have Mayor Wiechering present the story to the board Wednesday morning.

Neenah Man to Appear
F. M. Shattuck, Neenah, also will appear before the board Wednesday morning. Chairman Shea announced, and will speak on child welfare. Other action by the board Tuesday afternoon was to pass a resolution presented by Supervisor Henry Schultz of the highway committee providing for construction of a bridge at Eureka and the resurfacing of about 17 miles of county trunk highways. This will be done in conjunction with state aid, both parties to pay approximately $30,000.

The board listened to A. W. Ruether, expert from the Wisconsin Tax commission, who recently completed auditing the county books and who explained the methods used.

R. L. Sampson, Madison, supervisor of pensions for this district, reviewed the conditions the pension departments of counties are in, and asserted local departments all over the state are desperately short of staff-workers.

Legion Offers Back Taxes
The offer of the Oshkosh American Legion post of $150 to apply on back taxes was referred to the finance committee with action deferred to Wednesday.

A bid for printing was received from the Hicks Printing company, publishers of the Oshkosh daily newspaper. The bid totaled $1,200 for publication and $300 for additional printing, and was an increase over 1935 of about $300.

Continue Fight On Plan to Sell Delinquent Taxes

Menasha Supervisors Still Battle Plan to Clear Paine Debt

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau)

Oshkosh — Menasha supervisors continued to argue the legality of the disposition of the $46,000 Paine Lumber company tax delinquent certificates bid in April 30 by J. J. Davis for less than half their face value, as the Winnebago county board resumed session Wednesday morning.

R. M. Heckner, Menasha, questioned the legality, and offered a resolution asking for a written opinion on the matter from both the district attorney and attorney general. This motion lost when a tie vote of 21-21 resulted.

Supervisor E. F. Dornbrook, Menasha, also criticized the action of the board and asserted it was "most unfair to county tax payers living outside of Oshkosh."

Oshkosh's Share
Mayor A. J. A. Olson, Oshkosh, in a short talk to the board pointed out that Oshkosh already had contributed $75,000 by purchasing land in that amount from the Paine Lumber company as well as his city's share of delinquent taxes, approximately $20,000.

He stated that all Neenah contributed was $7,000 with about $6,000 contributed by Menasha as its share of delinquent taxes.

"Oshkosh is doing a big thing for the county to get this big plant back on the tax roll," said Mayor Wiechering.

He pointed out that Oshkosh contributed about 42 per cent of the Paine taxes now, but when the Paine plant was running in 1933, contributed about 49 per cent.

Child Supervisors
Harry E. Meyer, Oshkosh city attorney and former supervisor, chided the supervisors criticizing the deal for "bad faith." He asserted that in a previous session of the board, when the supervisors wanted the help of Oshkosh in securing about 100 miles of town roads shifted to the county, Oshkosh supervisors had cooperated. Meyer contended this bit of "log rolling" was done with the understanding they would vote to aid the Paine plant to start.

John A. Moore, Oshkosh supervisor, also had "good authority" that between $437,000 and $500,000 was being raised to get the Paine company into operation which would employ at least 200 men. He said $25,000 had been set aside to revamp the machinery and another $125,000 was now available to start operation.

F. B. Keefe, former district attorney, addressed the board in favor of a resolution to be offered this afternoon requesting an appropriation for Winnebago Land, Inc. He stated this was a non-profit organization advertising the entire county to attract tourist trade.

F. S. Shattuck, Neenah, also addressed the board. He stressed the urgent need for more trained personnel in state institutions.

"While we need more buildings for both the physically and mentally sick in Wisconsin," he said, "we need even more a larger group of trained doctors and nurses in these institutions."

Shattuck stated much could be done in home welfare work to prepare the homes of the mentally sick and delinquent to give them proper care. He asserted that if the homes of patients could be prepared to carry on their treatment at least 100 patients could be released from the purchase and distribution of the Winnebago State Hospital. He said the same situation was encountered in tuberculosis institutions.

Contracts on Road Oil, Fire Hose, Sidewalks Let by Menasha Aldermen

Menasha—Contracts on road oil, fire hose, sidewalks and a sewer pump were awarded by members of the Menasha common council at a regular meeting held last night in city hall.

The Standard Oil company was awarded the contract to furnish the city approximately 50,000 gallons of road oil at $0.537 per gallon to be delivered in tank cars when needed.

Three other oil companies including the Camden Petroleum company, the Scotch Oil company and the Great Lakes Asphalt and Petroleum company submitted bids. A question of the legality of awarding the contract to the second lowest bidder was raised by Alderman George Zielinski. The Scotch Petroleum company had submitted a bid of $0.535 per gallon. The city attorney said that it was up to the discretion of the council to award the contract to the company having the most satisfactory product.

Alderman Earl Sauter requested to be excused from the vote and the request was granted by the council. Alderman Zielinski cast the only dissenting vote.

Nine manufacturers of fire hose submitted bids on 1,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose and 100 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose for the fire department. The contract to furnish the hose was awarded to two companies, the Bilateral Fire Hose company, Chicago, getting the contract on the 2 1/2 inch hose at $1 per foot and the American LaFrance company getting the contract on the 1 1/2 inch hose at 45 cents per foot.

The two contracts together involve an expenditure of $1,045. Alderman Earl Sauter, a member of the fire committee, said that the reason the two companies were selected was that each had a good guarantee and that both were among the low bidders. Other bidders included, the B. F. Goodrich company, J. J. Kapel company, Indiana Fire Hose company, Norman Bolt and Supply company, General Fire Hose company, Schlaefler

Hardware company, U. S. Rubber Products company.

Frank A. Kael, Menasha, was awarded the contract to install new sidewalks and repair old sidewalks in Menasha during 1937. His bid quoted 10,000 square feet of 4-inch concrete at 24 cents per square foot, 10,000 feet at 20 cents per square foot not including grading, 500 feet of 8-inch cross walk at 25 cents per square foot and 1,000 feet of repairs at 25 cents per square foot. The Charles Gambisky Construction company's bid ran one cent higher on each item.

After going over bids on a sewer pump for the Brighton Beach sewer project, the street committee recommended that the bid of the Warren Pump company, Menasha, be accepted. The pump price quoted was $372. The pump will be installed at the sewer station to raise sewage in the Brighton Beach district to the level of the city sewage system.

Machines Stop Coated in American League Opener

Winners Count Run in Last of Ninth to Cop, 8-7

Lloyd Schroeder Hitting Star for Last Year's Champs

THIS WEEK'S GAMES
AMERICAN LEAGUE
(Roosevelt Field)
Tuesday—Machines 8, Coated Paper 7.
Wednesday—Fox River versus Woolen Mills.
Thursday—Tuttle-Post versus At-Last Mill.

COATED PAPER company softballers, champions of the American league last season, suffered an 8 to 7 setback last night at the hands of the Machines. K. C. team as the circuit opened its 1937 race before the largest opening day crowd. The loop shows at Roosevelt school diamond. Both teams got 15 hits while Coated erred 4 times and the Machines 3 times.

Coated opened the game like a championship club when Lloyd Schroeder doubled to center in the first to drive in two runs. The Machines, however, got a run back when A. Deeg hit and McClone scored from third in the Machine half the frame.

Coated scored again in the second with Dats Crowe counting and R. Haase out at the plate on a perfect throw from left to home plate by Deeg. The Glenn boys, Marvin and Bob, then tallied for the Machines in the last of the second and the score was tied at 3-all.

The third, fourth and fifth frames were scoreless but Coated went ahead in the sixth with a run and the Machines counted two in the last of the seventh to again take the lead. Three runs in the first of the eighth gave Coated the lead again but the Machines tied it up in the last of the eighth with two markers.

Machines won in the last of the ninth. Furringer got an infield hit, Kranzusch drove one down the third base line and "E. Norman" chose to throw to second to force Furringer but the ball got away from Hurley and rolled into centerfield as Furringer scored.

Lloyd Schroeder was the Coated hitting star with a homer in the eighth. He also drove in five of Coated's runs. "E. Norman" and L. Schroeder of Coated hit singles and Mader of the Machines. "Smokie" Williams tossed for the Coated and fanned seven and walked two. W. Ecker fanned seven and walked one while tallying for the Machines.

'Bagoland Preparing for Annual White Bass Run

OSHKOSH—While thousands of white bass swim unconcerned about Lake Winnebago, completely unaware of the reception that is being prepared for them, civic leaders throughout the Winnebago area are busy arranging community celebrations to properly observe the annual "run" which these silver fish will soon begin up the Fox and Wolf rivers.

Hundreds of residents of the area ranging from school boy fishermen to bankers, lawyers and city officials are getting ready for the event, expected to start about May 14, and continue until May 22.

Realizing that there are many more of these fish to be caught than can be used by the residents of the area, fishermen from all over Wisconsin, Illinois and other nearby states are being urged and invited to come and get their share, set by law at 15 a day.

Will Use Nets

Since these fish go up the river by the thousands when they start to "run," Winnebago hosts are practically guaranteeing that those who come here for a day or so of fishing will get their limit daily.

For those who do not care to do their own fishing, hauls of fish are to be made from the lake and river during the celebration under the supervision of the state conservation commission.

The game fish thus netted are not available and are returned to the lake.

That Heavy Firing Yesterday Was the Majors Bounding Their Hurling Stars

BY BILL BONTI
Associated Press Sports Writer

THE major league magnates may be forced to install pitchers' storm cellars in their spring ball parks if yesterday's carnage continues.

Not even King Carl Hubbell was immune from the barrage of base-hits that marked the start of inter-sectional strife in both National and American leagues. The four-team teams that saw action produced 173 hits, an average of twelve for every ten runs, a shade more than seven each.

The only safe spot was Chicago's Comiskey park, where rain kept the Athletics and White Sox from opening their series.

The biggest blow to tradition was the nine-hit, seventh inning lam-

Cities Arrange Festivals

To properly entertain visitors who will be here for the white bass fishing the communities of Oshkosh, Omro, Winnebago and Fremont, all located on the Fox or Wolf rivers, are arranging fun festivals.

Contests are now in progress at each of the communities mentioned, to select a queen and her court to preside over the festivities. Fond du Lac, Neenah-Menasha are also making arrangements for fishing parties.

Winnebago will hold its formal celebration on Friday, May 14; Oshkosh celebrates on May 15 and 16; and Omro will observe its fishing fête on May 19. A two-day celebration will climax the area-wide event at Fremont on Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23.

In addition to elaborate coronation ceremonies in these communities on the dates mentioned, there will be Mardi Gras events, including street dancing, fishing and casting contests of various kinds will be held with valuable prizes at stake.

basting the cellar-dormant Reds gave Hubbell. The Oklahoma screwball ace fanned ten Rhinelanders but had to be lifted in favor of Harry Gumbert so the Giants might edge out a 7-6 decision. The victory kept intact Hub's two-year league winning streak, which now extends to 19 games and, unofficially, ties him with Tim Lincecum and Rube Marquard.

Keefe, in 1888, and Marquard, in 1912, won nineteen in a single season. Both oddly enough, also were Giant pitchers.

Hubbell was not alone in his failure to stay a full nine innings. There were, in fact, only three hurlers who did—Lou Fette, who turned back the Cardinals with three hits and won his second game for the Boston Bees; Lefty Gomez, who fanned nine on the way to his second triumph, a 4-hit, 10-1 trimming of the Detroit Tigers; and Leroy (Tarzan) Parmelee, who felt the heavy-hitting pressure but managed to so scatter the Phillies' thirteen hits that his Chicago Cub team-mates might gain a 14 to 7 verdict.

State Triple Steal

Something extra special in the way of an explosion occurred in Cleveland. Touched off by the ever-explosive Ben Chapman, it took the shape of a triple steal and a seven-run, eleventh-inning rally that completely broke up what had been a fairly peaceful ball game. By virtue of those seven runs, the Nats came out on top, 12-5, despite the efforts of five Indian pitchers, three of whom took the rubber in that fatal eleventh.

The Red Sox, too, felt the hitting urge—a bit more so than the Browns, whom they out-scored, 11 to 6, and out-hit, 18 to 13. The Dodgers also had the hitting urge, combining the pitching of ex-teenmate Ed Brandt and Bill Swift for ten hits, but once again Burleigh Grimes failed and a pitcher who could finish what he started, and the Pirates included four triples and a homer by Johnny Dickshot among their eight hits to stay at the head of the parade with a 10-3 victory.

Brooklyn's four pitchers brought their two-day total to nine, their total for the 12-game season to thirty-five.

Coffman Racks Up 4th Win for Hens

Younger Brother of Veteran Major Leaguer Is Owned by Detroit Tigers

Chicago.—George Coffman, a young hurler farmed out to Toledo by the Detroit Tigers, apparently is taking no chances on being over-looked if Mickey Cochrane decides to call in pitching talent later in the season.

Coffman, younger brother of Dick Coffman, veteran major leaguer, racked up his fourth straight victory yesterday as Toledo defeated Minneapolis, 8 to 7, in the opening game of the series. He was hit freely, yielding 11 safeties, but touched-up in the late innings.

Coffman's mates, led by Jimmy Adair who slugged out a home run and two doubles, along with walking once, made better use of his hits than the Millers did with 11. In addition to Adair's round tripper, Roy Cullenbine and Chet Morgan hit homers, to more than offset circuit wallows by Carl Reynolds and Roy Pileger.

Columbus concentrated its punch in the last two innings to defeat St. Paul, 5 to 3. After being held scoreless for seven innings by Bill Cox, a former teammate, the Red Birds broke out with three runs in the eighth and added another pair in the ninth. Max Macon kept the Saints under control until the ninth in which the losers scored twice, and Ed Hueser finished.

Indianapolis' opener at Kansas City, and the second number of the Louisville-Milwaukee series at Milwaukee, were rained out.

Neenah Women Leave For International Bowling Tournament

Neenah Gold Labels women's bowling team left last night via Manitowoc for Rochester, N. Y., where it will show in the international women's bowling tourney starting Friday night at 7 o'clock. Members of the squad are Ann Muench, Lillian Klebenow, Ollie Haase, Elizabeth Bell and Pearl Hornke. Maxine Casperson accompanied the five and will roll doubles with Pearl Hornke. The other doubles combinations are Bell and Muench, and Klebenow and Haase.

Vikings Cop Golf And Tennis Meets

Defeat Ripon Squads in Competition at Oshkosh And Green Lake

Lawrence tennis and track squads defeated Ripon college teams in intercollegiate competition yesterday afternoon. The tennis team marked up a 5 to 1 victory over the Redmen on the Oshkosh courts and the golf squad scored a 10 to 2 win in matches on the Tuscumbia course at Green Lake.

Heideman of Lawrence shot the 21 to 1 over Van Wic. The tennis matches were played on courts at Oshkosh because there were no courts at Ripon in shape.

Ripon last year won the all-state title in a quadrangular meet at the Butte des Morts course in Appleton. Wright was the only member of last year's squad that met the Vikings in yesterday's match.

The golf results:

Lawrence	Pts.	Ripon	Pts.
Heideman	11	Wright	14
Bartholomew	21	Van Wic	14
Hollenbeck	3	Haberman	0
Kreick	0	Hollenbeck	0
Totals	10	Totals	2

In the Raft-Wright match, the two players split each winning nine holes. Heideman tied with Van Wic in the first nine and then copped the second for the victory.

Bartholomew and Hollenbeck both won 18 holes for shutout victories. The Beloit golf, tennis and track squads will meet Lawrence here Saturday.

Leete Takes Three Firsts, Kapp, Graf And Grode 2 Each

Vikings Run Against Beloit College Here Saturday Afternoon

BY GORDON MCINTYRE
RYON—Ripon college track and field team provided little opposition for the Lawrence college thiply clads here yesterday afternoon and the Vikes returned to Appleton with a 90 to 41 victory. It was Lawrence's second victory this season in dual competition. Saturday Lawrence will run against Beloit at Whiting field, Appleton.

Lawrence won first in every event except two. In the high jump Sam Leete was bested by John Pray of the Crimson and in the two-mile Zarling was chased across the tape first by Fulton of the Vikes.

Ripon showed better than against Beloit a week ago but as the meet closed with the relay the Crimson suffered the loss of Blackwood, star dash man. Blackwood started the first 220 yards of the relay and as he started around the first curve pulled a muscle in his leg and rolled into the grass writhing in pain. He will be lost to the Crimson the remainder of the season.

Lawrence was improved over a week ago when it won from Carroll at Waukesha. Joe Graf showed his best speed this season with firsts in the century and 220. Gerlach was third in the 220 while VandeWalle had to be content with a fourth. VandeWalle copped the quarter mile easily, however.

"Tut" Grode won first in the half and the mile without being pressed.

Leete Wins 3 Firsts

Sam Leete won three firsts and a second to top the Viking scorers. He was first in the two hurdle races without difficulty and won the broad jump where Lawrence slammed with VandeWalle and Graf second and third. Leete found the high jump takeoff bad and he couldn't do better than second.

Cliff Osen won 11 feet, 6 inches in the pole vault, his best height this season, and won Junior Kapp the discus for a first place and took the shot without trouble with Maertzwiler won second and Scotty MacDonald third. In the javelin, Ed Fritz again copped with Cliff Burton second.

The relay went to Lawrence by forfeit when Blackwood was hurt. The summary of events follows: 100-yard dash—First, Graf (L); second, Blackwood (R); third, Koel (R). Time—0.2.

220-yard dash—First, Graf (L); second, Blackwood (R); third, Gerlach, Time—22.7.

440-yard run—First, VandeWalle (L); second, Gerlach (L); third, Marnach (R). Time—53.1.

Half mile—First, Grode (L); second, Krueger (R); third, Lehman (R). Time—2:05.5.

Mile—First, Grode (L); second, Seale (R); third, Hecker (L). Time—4:45.

Two mile—First, Zarling (R); second, Seale (R); third, Fulton (L). Time—11:06.

High hurdles—First, Leete (L); second, Pray (R); third, Walker (L). Time—15.5.

Low hurdles—First, Leete (L); second, Pray (R); third, Crawford (L). Time—26.

High jump—First, Pray (R); second, Leete (L); third, Walker (L). Height—6 feet.

Broad jump—First, Leete (L); second, VandeWalle (L); third, Graf (L). Distance—20 feet 10 inches.

Pole vault—First, Osen (L); second, Gorn (R); third, Wideman (L). Height—11 feet 6 inches.

Shot put—First, Kapp (L); second, Maertzwiler (L); third, MacDonald (L). Distance—38 feet 5 inches.

Discus—First, Kapp (L); second, Evans (R); third, MacDonald (L). Distance—128 feet 8 inches.

Javelin—First, Fritz (L); second, Burton (L); third, Mathas (R). Distance—167 feet 5 inches.

Relay race—Won by Lawrence team on default.

Give Prize Money In A. B. C. Tourney

All Statistics in Event Except Attendance Record are Unofficial

New York.—The American Bowling Congress, which amused and aroused New York's base sporting world for 54 days, is a thing of the past, but its memory lingers in a welter of figures.

All statistics except the attendance record of 57,414 given out by A. L. Lattin, A. B. C. president, are unofficial.

Competition in the Congress tourney reached a new high in several respects. Max Stein of Belleville, Ill., eclipsed the record for the all-events with a 2,070 total, and bowling in the five-man competition although it did not produce a record, was on a higher standard than in many previous tourneys. The Krakow Furniture Co. five of Detroit, paced the fast field with a 3,118 total.

Virgil Gibbs of Kansas City and Nelson Burton of Dallas, Tex., won the doubles title with 1,359 and took $300 for their efforts. Gene Gallagher, Mount Vernon, N. Y., won the singles crown and $300 with 249. Stein will receive $200 for his new record and the Krakows will split $1,000.

LEETE WINS LOWS

Here's Sam Leete, Lawrence college track star and Appleton youth, winning first place in the low hurdle yesterday as Lawrence college walloped Ripon in a dual meet at Ripon, 90 to 41. Leete turned in the distance in 26 seconds and finished far ahead of the second place man, John Pray, Ripon, who can be seen just over Leete's shoulder.

Giants Glad to Get Home Where Fences are Short

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

Just as everyone suspected, Max Schmeling here he'll do a bit of using it Jimmy Braddock isn't waiting at the gate of the Madison Square Garden bowl on the night of June 3. . . . The current Detroit toast is outfielder Gerald Walker. . . . Jimmy Carroll, St. Louis bookmaker, will drop a fortune if either Reaping Reward or War Admiral is home first in the derby. . . . He is loaded on both, with odds as high as 15 to 1 on Reaping Reward and 12 to 1 on War Admiral. .

Louisville Going Wild As Derby Day Approaches

BY ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Once again hysteria, better known in these parts as the Kentucky derby, has this capital of the turf world within its grip.

Where yesterday it appeared that the "hardboots" would take this derby in stride for a change, today there's a tenseness that gives one the feeling of a storm ready to let loose with all its fury. There is no need to tell casual visitors that the ranking three-year-olds of the country will settle their argument over $50,000 as historic Churchill Downs late Saturday afternoon.

In the first place there are not many casual visitors. For the most part people arriving in Louisville today came for only one purpose—to watch the 63rd running of America's most famous horse race.

The weather man cooperates some 75,000 Kentuckians and horse fans from every walk of life throughout the country are expected to pack the quarter-mile long stands and overflow into the infield three days hence.

Crowds throng the main business section, talking of nothing but the derby. Newsboys yell incoherent words regarding some new developments among the 15 to 19 horses which are expected to answer the call to boots and saddles. Overhead, banners, strung across the streets, remind one that this is derby week. Gaily decorated windows feature riding costumes and horse pictures.

Thousands will line Louisville's Broadway tonight for the annual derby festival parade presided over by the king and queen—Orris S. Reynolds and Ellen Bentley. Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry will meet in another of their tennis series tomorrow night while on the eve of the race will come the annual ball and a wrestling show.

Far away from the stir and bustle are quartered the equine actors, apparently unimpressed by the fact that their presence threatens to turn this city into a topsy-turvy world by Saturday.

More than ever, it seems, this derby has everybody guessing and pouring over past performances and workouts in an effort to come up with a winner. Last year, Brevity held the center of the stage with the others given only an outside chance of winning. One of them, Bold Venture, did it.

Today, however, the conversations in hotel lobbies, barber shops and on street corners center around at least five of the eligibles—Samuel Riddle's War Admiral, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Reaping Reward, J. H. Louchheim's Pompon, the Wheatley stables' Melodist and J. W. Farrish's Deller.

Deller forged into the picture yesterday when he whipped a highly regarded Reaping Reward and ten other derby eligibles in the mile of the "trial." The defeat of Reaping Reward served to establish War Admiral more firmly as the favorite. It wouldn't be surprising to see the son of Man O' War held at even money right while on the eve of the race.

Although beaten in his first start of the year, Reaping Reward still stacks up as a mighty hard horse to beat. Jockey Alfred Robertson said the race was just what the son of Sickle needed to make him run Saturday. He appeared a trifle short after taking the lead at the head of the stretch and then failing to hold off Deller's game bid in the final sixteenth.

As the result of the "trial," which Mrs. Mars' other entry, Military, finished fourth, Trainer Bob McGarvey decided to saddle also Case Ace Saturday.

Hilbert—the local baseball team played its first game of the season at Mt. Calvary Sunday where it met defeat by a 5-3 score. Then the Calvary team scored two hits coupled with a bad error in the lead in the runs which put it in the lead in the eighth inning Alphonse Suttner was replaced on the mound by Lester Hillmann with Oscar Hillmann receiving.

To Work

Milwaukee (AP)—Two new Milwaukee Brewers were slated to make their Borchert field debut today as the league leaders engaged the Louisville Colonels.

Johnny Glynn, optioned to the Brewers from the Yankees, signed a contract yesterday and reported ready to take over the right field pasture, temporarily patrolled by Pitcher Ralph Winegarner.

Manager Allan Sorohorn picked team Bill Zuber, right handed speed ball pitcher, to oppose the Colonels' Dick Bass in what would be Zuber's first home appearance.

Glynn, called the "iron man" of the minor leagues, missed only one game in his last three seasons of baseball. He batted .279 for Oakland last year and .222 for Birmingham in the New York-Penn league the previous year.

Yesterday's game, postponed because of a soggy infield, will be played as part of a doubleheader with Louisville June 11.

EVE'S ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDEMER

SYNOPSIS: Eve Mannersfield goes back to her 200-year-old house and orchard in Connecticut after five years in New York. She plans to marry gay, city-loving Denny and return to Manhattan. Uncle Henry, an old family friend, and the penniless Featherstones, with their serious young son Judge, move in with Eve. Her calm, practical neighbor, George Cleveland, who loves her, comes over evenings with his steel magnate father. Denny arrives for a weekend and is thrilled to play bridge with Mr. Cleveland from whom he hopes to get a new job.

Chapter 28
MITZI'S MOTIVES
 "WELL," Denny said, drawing a long breath and stretching. "I feel as if I'd been playing contract with Santa Claus!"

"Oh, Denny, then—" Eve began eagerly. But Marilyn, still avid, interrupted.

"Denny, tell us more about Mitzi's taking a place at Southampton. Is she really going to? Maybe she'll ask us all for weeks!"

Denny glanced at Eve resignedly. The Featherstones, amiably oblivious in their interests in the outside world, had no intention of leaving the lovers alone.

"Oh, all right," he said.

"Tomorrow morning," Eve whispered to Denny as they said goodnight, lingering in the hall outside Denny's room.

They had breakfast alone, in their sweaters out on the back portico in the May sunshine. The air was sharply sweet; the green lawn stretched beyond them, glittering with dew-starred cobwebs. Above at the end rose the budding orchard. They had scarcely taken time yet to talk of anything but love. Presently, they heard Marilyn's window close above their heads; on this day of all days she was getting up, hungry for more talk.

"Come on to the orchard," Eve said laughing.

They ran out hand-in-hand. She laughed and threw back her head, looking around her. "Don't you love it, Denny?"

She had been telling him excitedly about the white French lilacs and another nearly rose-colored past the garled June rosebushes. Beyond the strawberry bed, past the tangle of berry vines, three rough wooden steps took them presently to the narrow path between the thickly-growing wide-budding trees.

She flushed and laughed, walking with him down the gravel path that was bordering with daffodils, past the garled June rosebushes. Beyond the strawberry bed, past the tangle of berry vines, three rough wooden steps took them presently to the narrow path between the thickly-growing wide-budding trees.

"But Not For Our Scent!" They had climbed the steps and were in the midst of the orchard path before he answered, and then it was serious. He stopped. His arms closed round her as they stood among the leafing trees in a little clearing, the warm sun on their shoulders.

"I'd like it well enough as a background to the Cleveland's sort of life: riding horses and country clubs and hunt breakfasts and games. But not for our sort of people. Nothing but God's country! Well, people like us have to have the pleasures we can afford, and we can't have them in cities."

He was speaking more seriously than usual, her gay Denny. He hadn't talked much, even of his early life, but what little he had said had given a pretty clear picture—a gay spoiled lad with an indulgent mother; Virginia country-house; some sort of financial crash; it may merely have been that the money had come to an end; the mother remarrying; a man none too fond of Denny; and Denny gallantly seeking his fortune in pre-depression New York, where a delightful young man could have a good deal more pleasure than without money in the country.

"Gosh, Eve, I don't see how you've stood it," he cried.

"I like it," she said, and saw an opening for what she wanted to say. "But the Cleveland's aren't the hunt breakfast sort, Denny dear. You can't say that our parlor in the evenings is society-column stuff! You saw what a fine, simple sort of man he is. You've met him at last, and he jikes you." They were walking on now through the narrow path; Eve spoke back over her shoulder. "Why, don't you speak to him directly about the publicity job in Northern Steel? It's crazy to wait for Mitzi to p—" wires when you're right here on the ground with him. I can't understand it."

Denny spoke doggedly: "Mitzi said it would be fatal if I horned in for myself in the middle of what she's doing about it. I'm to go down to Southampton with her over next weekend and help her pick out that place for the summer; she says she'll have it all set up by then. You mustn't forget she's a fine business-woman and a natural diplomat."

"Her Mother Taught Her!" Eve recognized Mitzi's own words, shut her lips tight, and recommenced speaking temperately.

"Den, I sound like a cat, but you mustn't swallow Mitzi whole!"

He gave one of his gay bursts of laughter. "No, you sound as if I was the cat and Mitzi a canary! What you mean, darling?"

"I think Mitzi's dragging it out on purpose, just to have you around." Eve said resolutely. "All of us girls have heard her talk about her technique with men. How her mother from Alabama taught her."

"Oh, yes—" Denny was laughing again. "Mother was the belle of the countryside, like all proper Southern mothers—any other attitude about a Southern parent is undaughterly. I remember! This is rich!"

Encouraged, Eve went on.

"She works it out like a business. She tells how she should send yourself passionate anonymous notes in boxes of orchids, timed to open when men are there to hear about them. She asks different men in for cocktails all alone, three at a time, and pretends each one has broken in on the other without her knowledge."

Defer Action on City Ordinance On Junk Dealers

Aldermen Authorize Borrowing of $40,000 for City Expenses

Kaukauna—The city council at its meeting last night deferred for two weeks further consideration of the proposed junk dealers ordinance after discussing the matter with several interested parties.

It was definitely determined last night that automobile dealers did not fall within the scope of the ordinance and that only those who dealt in articles unfit for the use for which they were intended would be assessed the yearly license fee.

The council passed a resolution introduced by Alderman Raymond Nagel, finance committee chairman, authorizing Mayor John Niesen and City Clerk Lester Buehler to negotiate for a loan of $40,000 at 5 per cent from a Kaukauna bank to pay for city operations for the remainder of the year. In order to provide funds to meet the interest and principal of the loan, an additional tax will be levied for the year 1937.

No Definite Word

City Attorney Harry McAndrews read a letter from the land commissioners of the state of Wisconsin advising the city of Kaukauna that they could not give a definite word yet on whether the interest rate on the $37,000 loan the city holds could be reduced.

The legislature recently passed a bill permitting the commissioners to make direct loans at as low as 2 1/2 per cent. The present rate is 4 per cent.

The council wants a lower rate on the loan which the city assumed during the construction of the Civic auditorium and gymnasium and at the election last month voters approved a referendum to refund the amount. The measure passed by the legislature may make the bond issue unnecessary.

A letter from an official of the Chicago and North Western Railroad company urging the city to take precautions with heavy machinery crossing railroad tracks in the city was read before the council last night.

Avoid Accidents

"In event you may have movements over our tracks with tractors, steamrollers, graders, or any bulky or heavy loads, we suggest that you put out instructions to your operators that the machines must be stopped clear of the first track and must make sure there is no train approaching before undertaking to cross the tracks," the letter read after calling attention to several instances in this vicinity in which trains narrowly missed crashing into this type of vehicle.

If the machines stall on the crossing, the operators "will immediately provide flag protection in both directions and do everything possible to prevent an accident," the letter said. As a safety measure, the official asked that all operators of such heavy vehicles be provided with red flags so that this protection can be ready for instant use in case of an emergency. "They should also have urged on them the necessity of extra precautions such as flares or fuses if machines are being used over railroad tracks when weather conditions obscure the view," he wrote.

The council voted to accept the plan of the state highway commission whereby the state will pave the short piece of road between Draper street and new Highway 41 providing the city maintain it. Several aldermen, however, said they believed the state could do more for the city than is proposed. The stretch of road is only about two blocks long.

The council authorized the board of public works to buy a sewer pump which will be installed at the corner of Tenth street and Main avenue to draw sewage from a cesspool to a main.

Connie Berken Leads West DePere in Win Over Kaukauna Track Team, 64-44

Kaukauna—Led by Connie Berken who galloped through for victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and won the shotput and discus to score 20 points himself, West DePere defeated Kaukauna 64 to 44 in a dual track meet held under a warm sun here yesterday afternoon.

The Phantoms took seven first places and tied for another in the 12-event contest in which the relay was not held because several Kaw runners were injured. Koehne, appearing in his first meet, gashed his left knee badly when he struck a hurdle and fell. Five stitches were needed to close the wound.

Lambie, long-striding Kaw quarter-miler, had little trouble winning his event in 57 seconds flat. Meyer turned in a surprise victory in the low hurdles for Coach Little's squad. Cooper outstripped the field in the 80 and Peterson won the high hurdles and broad jump.

Wins Two

A big, black-haired chap, slow in leaving his marks but a powerful runner once started, Berken was behind Peterson at the 50-yard mark but fought his way ahead to win by two yards in 10.7. His lunging finish brought him in a few feet in front of his teammate, Johnson, in the 220 with a time of 24.2.

Vandenberg, Kaw miler, turned in his best time of the season, finishing a few yards behind Utech of West DePere who hit the tape in 5:02. Cooper took the half-mile from a poor field in 2:19.

It was in the field events where the Kaw took their trimming. Berken not only won both the shot and the discus, but his mates ganged up to score a slam in the first event and only allowed Bootz to edge in for a third in the second.

The Phantoms chalked up another slam in the pole vault where Olson, Smits, and Van Sistine finished in that order.

Cicero Evangelical Church Has Last Quarterly Meeting of Year

Seymour—John Reim was elected circuit trustee for three years at a last quarterly meeting Friday evening at the Cicero Evangelical church. Other trustees of the Seymour-Cicero circuit are Will Barth and Ernest Miller. Stewards for the year were also chosen and the annual reports of all the church organizations. The business meeting which followed the church services were conducted by the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt as chairman and Forrest Huth as secretary.

The American Legion auxiliary held its regular meeting at the hall on Monday evening with 16 members and 2 guests present. During the business meeting Miss Eleanor Tubbs, Mrs. Ed Pasch, and Mrs. Forrest Huth were appointed as a committee to meet with a similar committee of the legion to complete plans for Memorial day. Mrs. John Bunkelman and Mrs. Arthur Zuch were elected alternates to the spring conference which is to be held at Marinette on May 19. Mrs. Harry Thompson and Mrs. Fred Frank will represent the local unit as delegates.

The charter of the organization was draped at the meeting for the next thirty days in memory of Mrs. Emma Piehl. At the close of the meeting the following Mother's day program was given: piano solo by Eleanor Tubbs; reading from Edgar Guest, "Mother's Day," by Mrs. Pasch; vocal solo, "Mother Macree," by Mrs. Frank Tubbs; reading, "Barkain Day," by Mrs. Ray Miller; poem, "To Mother," by Mrs. Chester Ziegenshein and community singing. Hostesses were Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Clyde Van Vuren.

Twenty-six friends gave a farewell party in honor of Mrs. John Brusewitz on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. William Row. A 7 o'clock supper was served after which cards were played. Honors at bridge were won by Mrs. Roy Talbot, Mrs. P. J. Graham, and Miss Eleanor Michaels; at schafskopf to Mrs. William Rankin and Mrs. John Hein. The group presented a gift to Mrs. Brusewitz as also the women of the Friendship club.

Miss Rita Nickodem spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Nickodem here. She was hostess to her classmates, the Misses Mona Keating and Ester Nett of Fond du Lac. All three girls are students at St. Mary's academy in Fond du Lac. Mrs. John Brusewitz and son will

Denny grinned at her. "So she doesn't really like me a bit, I'm just window dressing?"

"Of course she likes you. That's not the point. The point is, if she does such things, and she does, she's capable of stretching out all this job business just to keep you beaming her around."

"Well," Denny said tolerantly, "I think all that orchid stuff is sort of feminine and cute, but it's different from anything so important as getting a man a better job. I don't think you're fair to Mitzi, darling."

He stood still and took Eve's hands as they stood under the budding trees, and talked more seriously. "Girls don't understand, dear. Mitzi is not only an old friend of Mrs. Cleveland's, but Mr. Cleveland has been awfully interested in her too. Eve began to say, "So you think his friendship for us doesn't count?" when there was an interruption. "I say, I'm afraid I'm eavesdropping," said George's slow voice. (Copyright, 1937, Margaret Widdermer)

3 Months Remain for Flood Rehabilitation

The painstaking task of repairing houses and replacing household goods destroyed by the flood in the Mississippi and Ohio river valleys will continue for at least three months, according to a Red Cross bulletin received by Mrs. S. C. Shannon, Outagamie county Red Cross secretary.

Date for the completion of the greatest peace-time disaster relief operation the Red Cross has ever undertaken came into view this week as regions along the two rivers reported nearly all refugees had returned to their homes.

According to Red Cross officials a state of emergency still exists for 7,421 persons. They are living in 35 Red Cross concentration centers situated at strategic points along the two rivers, unable to return to their homes until repairs are completed, or in many cases, until their homes are completely rebuilt.
